200 Youths Stage Rally For Boycott

Anti-Integration Demonstration Is Held In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A crowd of more than 200 teenagers started an anti-integration rally today near a downtown high school in an effort to gain support for a school boycott.

In a repeat of Thursday's pep rally type performance, the students, mostly boys, yelled for Phillips High boys and girls to join the protest.

The demonstration began shortly before classes started. Some of the Phillips students joined the noisy group. Others went on to class.

"Come on out, nigger lovers," some of the demonstrators shouted over and over.

Meanwhile, a Negro boy and girl quietly entered Mobile's Murphy High, scene of a demonstration Thursday in which 54 white students were arrested.

A group of 30 Murphy boys gathered after the Negroes already had entered. They chanted the now familiar, "Two, four, six, eight, we don't want to integrate." They were dispersed by police.

Students at Phillips and several other still-segregated schools refused Thursday to join in the chanting, yelling and flag-waving demonstrations staged by carloads of teen-agers who roamed the city.

Most of Alabama's 16,000-man National Guard went off federal duty at midnight Thursday. President Kennedy federalized the National Guard to prevent Gov. George C. Wallace from using the soldiers to keep Negroes out of white schools Tuesday.

The Army said Thursday night another 130 guardsmen would be released at midnight tonight in the Mobile area. This will leave only 545 on duty in Birmingham, Tuskegee and Tuscaloosa.

In the wake of spreading student boycotts in Mobile, Tuskegee and Birmingham, Wallace pledged Thursday night in a Baltimore news conference to fight for re-segregated schools in Alabama.

During Thursday's roving demonstrations, three white men were arrested. One of them, Jack Cash, 56, was charged with carrying a pistol without a permit and having a concealed weapon.

Detective Capt. J. M. McDowell said Cash's car contained a straight razor, a meat hook, a pistol, shotgun, cartridges and flares. The officer said Cash also was carrying a derringer.

Another man, Clarence Lewis, 42, was charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Several hundred white students and some adults drove from school to school, waving rebel flags and staging pep-rally type demonstrations in an effort to draw followers from other schools.

They succeeded only at Jones Valley High where about 100 students walked out. At Phillips, Woodlawn, Banks, Ensley and two other segregated schools, the crowd was unsuccessful.

In Mobile, about 300 students walked out and demonstrated for more than an hour. Police arrested 54 students.

Bonds of $100 each were posted for most of the students by Harry D. Hardy, a Citizens Council representative.

Navy Boat Capsizes, 20 Of 21 Are Rescued

PORT JEFFERSON, N.Y. (AP) — A Navy launch with 21 men aboard capsized early today in the choppy waters of Long Island Sound. Twenty of the men were rescued, and one man is reported missing, the Coast Guard reported.

The launch, a 26-foot fiber glass capsized 1,000 yards from shore as it was ferrying the men from shore leave to the destroyer Hazelwood, here for antisubmarine tests.

Fifteen of the men swam ashore. Others were picked up by the destroyer, anchored 200 yards from where the launch capsized.

UP IN ARMS. Police carry a man from the Presidential Arms Hotel in Washington after a scuffle broke out Thursday during a meeting of supporters of the 50 American students who visited Cuba this summer despite a State Department ban. The man tried to voice his objections to the students and the scuffle ensued. Earlier, violence flared twice during a meeting of the House Un-American Activities Committee, investigating the trip. More Youths Face Hearing On Cuba Visit

House Erupts Into Struggle Between Students, Police

WASHINGTON (AP) — More American students who traveled to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba were called before House committee today, and edgy police mapped precautions against a recurrence of Thursday's screaming near-riots.

Twice the ornate hearing room of the Committee on Un-American Activities erupted into a swarming, pushing struggle between police and bearded youths, shrieking girls and college students.

Chairs tumbled over, fists flew and a shrill voice shouted: "Fascist, fascist."

No one was arrested nor anyone reported to be seriously hurt.

The third disturbance broke out when an unidentified man tried to speak out at an evening meeting set up by the Student Committee for Travel to Cuba and billed as a reply to House investigation.

"I have a few words to say," he shouted as he leaped up on a platform before a crowd of about 300 at a downtown meeting room.

As members of the audience swarmed around, police surged into the room and escorted the would be speaker and three cohorts down the stairs with the four intruders shouting:

"The Communist party is Jewish. The American Nazi party is the only foe of communism."

"Shut up, you filthy Nazi," a woman screamed over and over as the meeting turned into turmoil.

The worst outbreak during Thursday's congressional hearing came at the end of a long afternoon of testimony by Levi Laub, 25, a New York college student and one of the leaders of the 59 students who spent two months in Cuba this summer in violation of passport rules.

Laub defended civil disobedience as being in the best American tradition. That brought a

Brother Says Hlista 'Kind And Gentle'

BEAVER — The youngest son of slain Police Chief Walter Hlista, 44, testified today to his brother's "kindness and gentleness" in the first degree murder trial of Walter Hlista Jr., 19.

Ronald Hlista, 15, said his older brother "could not stand to see a little boy cry" and had once wept for an injured rabbit.

"My brother didn't know what he was doing that night," young Ronald said in reference to the shooting of the police chief of Harmony Township Feb. 28.

Asked about his late father's drinking, young Ronald testified that he was once required to drive for his father after he had spent all day in a Coraopolis bar.

Ronald had testified earlier that his father was a harsh man who always belittled Walter Jr.

Mrs. Sophia Hlista, on the stand more than three hours Thursday, said her husband beat the defendant, his brother and herself and was mentally and physically cruel to the boys.

Under cross-examination by District Atty. Richard P. Steward, young Ronald said he didn't remember saying his father was a reasonable man with ordinary house rules.

Young Ronald continued on the stand in the fifth day of the trial, which may continue tonight in Beaver County Court.

Turncoat Set To Leave For U.S. On Saturday

HONG KONG (AP) — Korean War turncoat Scott L. Rush, who emerged from Red China last Saturday, is scheduled to leave for home with his family Saturday.

The former U. S. Army sergeant from Marietta, Ohio, will be accompanied by his Chinese wife, Helen, and their year-old daughter, Betty Jean.

Rush was among 21 American prisoners who refused repatriation at the end of the Korean War.

Rush said earlier he planned to visit his mother, Mrs. H. L. Rush of Tucson, Ariz.

Trial Slated Monday For E. W. Mayhew

Embezzlement Case Set At Cumberland By Judge McClure

Trial is slated to begin Monday morning at 9:30 for Edgar W. Mayhew, 64, of Pughtown, charged with embezzlement of $33,797.01 while serving as chief deputy in the tax collection department of the Hancock County sheriff's office in New Cumberland.

Originally set June 27 and postponed to Aug. 27, it was delayed to Monday and Judge James G. McClure will preside in Circuit Court chambers in the Court-house.

The office of Sheriff Joseph H. Manney has summoned approximately 55 prospective jurors. Mayhew was indicted by the April Grand Jury accused of defalcation of tax funds between Jan. 1, 1953, and Sept. 13, 1962. He pleaded innocent.

In court Thursday, 16 defendants indicted by the September Grand Jury were arraigned and the indictments read by Judge McClure. No pleas were entered, but Judge McClure set Sept. 20 at 9:30 a. m. as the date.

Capias orders were returned for the apprehension of Amil Dinsio, 27, Daniel N. Marshall, 33, and Harold Dailey, 32, who are fighting extradition to West Virginia on charges of burglarizing a Weirton home of $800 in March.

Dinsio, of Youngstown, is being held in Columbus under bonds totaling $200,000 on charges involving a supermarket burglary there. Marshall and Dailey are both from Austintown. They have appealed to the 7th District Court of Appeals against extradition ordered by Columbiana County Common Pleas Court at Lisbon for return to Hancock for prosecution on the Weirton burglary charge.

One other capias order was returned by Judge McClure for a defendant from Weirton indicted a few months ago.

Meanwhile, defense attorneys for two defendants indicted on charges of murder filed motions for psychiatric examinations yesterday, and a hearing on this will be held Saturday morning.

Examinations were asked for Robert Miller Young, 34, of New Cumberland, accused of the rifle slaying Aug. 3 of George Merick, 49, of New Cumberland, and Leonard Brown of Weirton. Atty. George Loucas and Atty. Frank A. Pietrantoni represent Young.

U.S. Officials Warn Kennedy On Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy evidently is receiving strong warnings from U.S. officials in Viet Nam that the anti-Communist war there may be lost unless the Diem government institutes sweeping reforms.

Kennedy told his news conference Thursday that in publicly criticizing the policies of the Vietnamese government during the last two weeks he has actually understated the concern expressed to him by the most experienced American military, diplomatic, aid and other officials in the crisis-ridden Southeast Asian country.

He also said that his own comments about the situation there reflect the views of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge "in a very moderate way."

Thinks U.S. Won't Split Politically

Puts In Another Strong Plug For Treaty's Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy says he thinks "we are going at about the right tempo" on racial integration and that he does not believe Americans will make the "fatal mistake" of dividing politically along racial lines.

He said the recent desegregation of schools in 150 Southern cities "is an impressive story" reflecting great credit on Southerners who put respect for the law above emotion.

The President gave these views Thursday in a news conference during which he also put in another strong plug for Senate ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, announced he would address the United Nations later this month, and defined U.S. policy in South Viet Nam.

Asked about a Gallup poll in which 50 per cent of those replying thought he was "pushing integration too fast," Kennedy said he thought the figure was accurate.

But he said he considered it "rather impressive" that another 40 per cent replied that the pace was "more or less right."

He said "change always disturbs, and, therefore, I was surprised that there wasn't greater opposition."

Bringing up the school desegregation issue.

Bill Passed On Medical Education

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has sent to the White House the first major administration bill to be cleared this session—President Kennedy's medical education program.

Democratic congressional leaders expressed hope today that the strategy which won easy passage for the measure will work with other sections of Kennedy's school program.

The Senate approved the $236.4 million medical bill by an overwhelming 71-9 vote. The House passed it in April 288-122.

It establishes the first broad federal aid program in education since passage of the 1958 National Defense Education Act.

After years of frustration on school bills, the leadership strategy for 1962 has been to let the House act first with the Senate, traditionally more friendly to such legislation, following behind.

The theory is that the size of the bills originating in the Senate has scared off the House in the past.

The House this year chopped down the 10-year medical education program submitted by Kennedy to a three-year bill. The Senate accepted this without change Thursday, although sponsors made it clear they expect it to be extended by 1966.

The bill contains a $61.4 million student loan authorization and authorization for $175 million in grants to help build new schools or rehabilitate old ones to train doctors, dentists, and public health personnel.

Homeland Full Of Them, Leader Says

Russians Giving Orders In Cuba, Refugee Claims

COZUMEL, Mexico (AP)—The leader of a band of refugees who escaped from Cuba last week in a hijacked navy tender said today that the Soviets now give the orders in his homeland.

"Our homeland is full of Russians," said Rafael Rodriguez, 48, a former Merchant Marine sailor who masterminded the flight of 80 Cubans, including 28 women and 22 children, to the Mexican island of Cozumel.

"The Russians are in a world apart, without contact with the Cuban people," Rodriguez told a reporter. "But it is they who dictate. That we cannot tolerate."

Rodriguez, who brought the refugees here after a perilous five-day voyage, said conditions were growing steadily worse in Cuba.

"The people suffer increasingly from hunger and privation," he said. "Most do not even have shoes."

"Invited foreigners who, with a big show, are shown Castro's Cuba are kept away from the Cuban people. No contact with them is permitted."

"The visitors are put up in the fancy hotels, to which the people have no access. When visiting groups are taken anywhere, the areas visited are first cleared of people."

"This was the case with the group of American students which visited Cuba recently at Fidel Castro's invitation."

Rodriguez estimated that 95 per cent of the Cuban people are non-Communists.

"If they had the opportunity, all of them would do what we did—leave our beloved island," he said.

Recalling the escape voyage, Rodriguez said a Cuban navy torpedo boat trailed them for hours, but finally veered off, apparently deceived by a homemade American flag flying from the mast of the tender.

The refugees searched the skies and seas for days, hoping a U.S. plane or ship would appear and lead them to Florida. Because of short supplies they had to switch course the third night out and head for Mexico.

In Mexico City, a spokesman for the U.S. Embassy said that if the refugees apply for visas to the United States they would be given prompt consideration.

Grand Jurors Name 23 In Indictments

County Defendants Due Arraignment At Lisbon Sept. 24

LISBON—The Columbiana County Grand Jury returned indictments against 23 defendants in its report to Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp this morning.

Arraignment is scheduled Sept. 24.

In session since Tuesday afternoon, the September panel examined 48 witnesses in 31 cases. It ignored four cases and one secret indictment was returned.

Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw and assistant, Atty. Joseph Baronzi, were in charge of the three-day investigation.

In the customary inspection of the County Jail, the jury reported it found conditions "satisfactory" as to its operation set up by the court. Indicted were:

Kenneth Wright, 22, of 713 Garner Ave., East Liverpool, passing fraudulent checks.

Austin Wayne Hoschar, 36, of 475 Mulberry St., East Liverpool.

Salineville Has Damage From Severe Windstorm

SALINEVILLE — A pounding rain and windstorm which slapped the village's West End early Thursday evening left a trail of uprooted trees, bent television antennas, broken power and telephone lines and small flooding but caused no injuries.

Power service to some homes was cut off when trees were blown over lines along Route 39 at the Dean Carter home and the Robert Wheatley home during the height of the storm, which some residents termed a "near twister."

Firemen stood by with two trucks when a wire shorted, causing sparks at the home of Howard Green, but no extensive damage resulted.

Large hailstones lashed homes and streets, stripping leaves from trees which clogged storm sewers and caused flooding of streets and sidewalks, with water entering some basements in lower areas.

The water came to the doors of the Hoey's Restaurant of W. Main St. and Hirst's Restaurant of E. Main St., according to Police Chief Roy Lewis.

The chief said three or four large trees were uprooted by the driving winds, while a number of smaller trees were blown down or snapped. Many tree limbs were scattered across the village and nearby areas, and mud and soil was washed out on streets and sidewalks.

Although the West End was hardest hit, there was damage elsewhere in the village and rural district.

On Foundry Hill, a large tree was downed near the Ellsworth Clark home, blocking the roadway and Clark, Tom Wilson and others saved the trunk and limbs to clear the way for traffic.

Across the Carroll County line, the wind buckled wroughtiron supports at the home of Harold Twaddle, causing damage to the porch.

Ohio Power Co. and Ohio Bell Telephone Co. crews worked late restoring service.

State Aid Due In Midland's Air Pollution

Councilmen Told Contamination Is Far Above Average

Advised that Midland's dust contamination is far above the national average, Council Thursday night authorized the Pennsylvania Air Pollution Commission to send in representatives to assist the borough with the problem.

The resolution was adopted on motion of councilman Ray Prestutti, after the report from Richard Zins, a controlling engineer of Region 3 of the commission, on the findings of tests he made on the pollution in Midland and the Beaver Valley.

Zins said the tests consisted of three types — atmospheric study, concentrating on small materials which carry about a mile and a half from their source; dust fall, relatively close to the point of origin, and on hydrogen sulfide or gaseous matter.

The engineer said the concentration of the heavier dust particles in Midland ranks among the highest rates in the state and is approximately 10 times that of the national average.

He said domestic sources, such as home heating, contribute to the problem but that the basic source of the pollution is the open hearth operations of the steel plant facility, with the highest concentration being closer to the plant area.

He declared "the steel company is definitely the basic source of the pollution—in their iron oxide partial pollution." Apparently the reference was to the Crucible Steel Co.

Zins said that the purpose of the tests was to find the point of origin of the contamination and to obtain data for use by the commission in preparing regulations.

He pointed out that the commission, without regulations, is not an enforcement agency, but acts as a buffer — to go to the companies involved with suggestions and ideas for their assistance in solving the problem.

He added, however, that he feels there will be regulations for the area, based on findings of the tests. When asked by Council how long it would take, the engineer said it probably would

Miss Ella Duffy

Miss Ella Duffy, 306 Blakeley St., died this morning at 11:15 at City Hospital.

She had been a patient since June 30. She was 83.

Weather

83 yesterday afternoon and the low was 52 this morning.

While the city escaped storm damage, power interruptions were reported in the Chester and Newell areas. Hail was reported locally and in Wellsville after the cool front moved out. Salineville was hard-hit.

In Chester, a power interruption occurred about 5 p. m. at the Metcalf Refractories Co. when a limb of a dead tree fell onto a power line along Fairview Rd. near 1st St., breaking a three-phase line and a customer service drop.

About 14 homes in the immediate area were without power for some 2½ hours.

In Newell, a power interruption of about three hours occurred in one area after a tree limb fell on a drop line behind Jimmy's Service Station of Washington St. No service failure resulted when a metal awning was twisted from a trailer of Lewis Walters of Newell Heights, striking a power line.

Heart Attack Fatal

PAINEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Charles Theodore Miner, 39, of Mentor died of a heart attack late Thursday after his car and another collided at the Ohio 306-Joseph Street intersection in Kirtland Township, the Highway Patrol reported.

Board Hires 2 At Fairfield

MIDDLETON — Hiring of two new instructors — one for an enlarged kindergarten program — was authorized by the Fairfield-Waterford Board of Education Thursday night.

Mrs. Susan Robinett was employed on a half-day basis to teach a third kindergarten class. She will teach at the Fairfield School, in an expansion of the program, which includes two classes at Waterford.

Cecil Ullom was hired on a half-day basis to teach English at the junior high school.

No action was taken on revision of janitors' salaries in connection with a recent 40-hour limitation on the work week. The board agreed to await an attorney general's ruling clarifying the salary issue.

Final payment of $235 was made on Title Three projects for the year. The Firestone Electric Co. was authorized to install highway flasher warning lights along Route 46 at the New Waterford School. The signals were provided by the state.

Discussion was held on promotion of a proposed 3-mill levy on the Nov. 5 ballot. The Fairfield-Waterford Education Association has agreed to pay for mailing information concerning the levy, which is a 2.7-mill renewal and a new three-tenths mill levy.

Bids for coal supply will be opened by the board at the meeting Oct. 10. Bidders are to furnish a coal analysis, and bid on stoker, egg and mine run coal.

County VFW Meets At Lisbon

Carl Lamoneha of Columbiana, County VFW Council commander, presided at its meeting Wednesday at the Lisbon Post home.

The council is composed of nine posts, including Lisbon, Columbiana, Salem, East Palestine, Salineville, East Liverpool, Toronto and two in Wellsville.

The VFW is the only veterans' organization to maintain and operate a national orphan's home for widows and orphans and annual cash donation to the Ohio cottage of the home in Eaton Rapids, Mich., was discussed. James Rhodes, president of the Soldiers and Sailors Relief Commission, gave a detailed report on monthly activities.

Plans were discussed for the membership drive for the coming year under the direction of William Davis of the Columbiana Post. Lunch was served by the Lisbon Post.

Grass Bloomed Blue

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — When pioneers began arriving in Kentucky the central prairie region was a rolling land covered with a wild growth of grass bearing tiny blossoms of a dusky blue color. They called it blue grass and that eventually became the name of the area.

Kennedy

regation subject in an opening statement, Kennedy had high praise for "the vast majority" of Southerners.

He noted that five federal judges who signed a school desegregation order in Alabama "were all from Alabama, all grew up in Alabama, and I am sure shared the views of the majority of Alabamians who, I think are not for desegregation, but, nevertheless, met their responsibilities under the law."

He also mentioned school desegregation in South Carolina, Florida and Georgia, and said it added up to "an impressive story."

Politically, he said "I don't know what 1964 is going to bring" but "I think a division upon racial lines would be unfortunate."

"Over the long run we are going to have a mix. This will be true racially, socially, ethnically, geographically, and that is really, finally, the best way."

He said in reply to another question he is not considering a stronger executive order aimed at eliminating discrimination in housing.

On other subjects:

TREASY: President Kennedy's voice took on an edge when he rejected the arguments of opponents. "We can't turn our back and tell 90 nations that now signed it that the lid is off, the atomic age has come in all of its splendor, and that everyone now should begin to test in the atmosphere which, of course, everybody would have to do if this treaty fails."

VIET NAM: "We want the war to be won, the Communists to be contained and the Americans to go home. That is our policy."

ROCKEFELLER: With a big grin, and tongue obviously in cheek, Kennedy said he was prepared to accept the blame for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's recent withdrawal of a 1962 campaign pledge not to increase taxes in New York.

PAKISTAN: Kennedy said he did not think Pakistan would make an alliance with Communist China in retaliation for U. S. aid to India.

37 At School Aides' Event

LISBON — Thirty-seven attended the all-county meeting Thursday evening at the McKinley School for superintendents and Board of Education members, who represented 10 of the 12 schools in the county. The necessity of establishing a vocational high school for Columbiana County was discussed.

Bernard C. Nye of Columbus, state supervisor of distributive education of the Department of Vocational Education, showed slides on establishing an area vocational high school. Several are being formed in Ohio to help the students not able to attend college.

The superintendents and school boards will now discuss the matter within their areas and the superintendent will advise what the boards have agreed upon at the next meeting of the chief school administrators Oct. 11 at the Wick Hotel.

The boards will make a survey of their areas to go over the proposal. Most of those attending last night feel it would be a good thing for the area.

Lisbon board members acted as hosts and served refreshments.

Doctor Hunt Set In Winona Area

WINONA — The United Civic Improvement Association met Thursday evening at the Methodist Church and set up a series of area sessions to explain the project to raise money for securing a doctor for the area. Dates and location of meetings are:

Monday — Guilford fire station; Wednesday — North Georgetown community center; Thursday — Phillips Christian Church; Sept. 23 — New Garden Methodist Church, and Sept. 25 — Winona Methodist Church.

Members from the executive committee will attend these meetings and outline the project. Letters have been sent to fire departments, Rural Clubs, churches, Farm Bureau Councils and Granges to send representatives. It is hoped that these organizations will head the canvass in their districts.

Don Murphy of Salem, chairman, presided.

sharp drumfire of applause from some in the audience.

Rep. Edwin Willis, D-La., chairman of the Committee on Un-American Activities, repeatedly warned the overflow crowd in the big caucus room against demonstrations. Earlier he had police remove half a dozen youths for another long outburst of applause.

Then a youth stood up and started shouting "there is more freedom in Cuba than in Louisiana," and began leading a shout of "racists go home."

Dozens of police moved in and began pushing the ringleaders out of the room. Many were bearded and wore denim work shirts and blue jeans. Some Negroes were among them. Girls screamed as squads of policemen shoved their way through.

After being hustled out of the building, the demonstrators milled about and told newsmen they had been brutally handled by police.

Condition Of Injured Woman Is 'Critical'

BEAVER — Mrs. Frances M. Krauss of Aliquippa, one of six persons involved in a truck-car crash near Rochester Tuesday night, remains in "critical condition" at Rochester General Hospital.

Her daughter, Miss Frances C. Krauss, was killed in the crash. Conditions of the four other persons in Rochester Hospital were reported "good." They are Russell Gohring of Rochester R. D. 1, the driver of the pickup truck, Mrs. Grace Cain and daughter, Cathy, and Miss Margaret Deery, all of Aliquippa.

Auto Upsets, Hurts Driver

A Paris (Ohio) driver was injured in one of two one-car mishaps reported by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon today and Thursday.

Arthur L. Lantry, 37, was taken to Alliance City Hospital after his 1957 sedan veered off Route 30 a mile east of Minerva at 3:40 a. m. today and overturned.

He suffered multiple contusions and abrasions, and was charged with driving left of center. His car was badly damaged, the patrol said.

Robert Dale Brinker, 16, of Leetonia R. D. 2 escaped injury when his auto left County Rd. 461 on a curve just south of Leetonia at 3:55 p. m. yesterday and rolled over, causing moderate damage to the 1953 sedan.

He was ordered into traffic court at Lisbon.

Welcome, Not Caution

East Liverpool, like thousands of other cities throughout the country, is trying to attract new industry.

A group of civic-spirited citizens have organized the East Liverpool Industrial Development Corporation and are in the midst of a fund raising campaign to finance their search.

There is no doubt the city is late getting into the race because other communities have been promoting their industrial attractiveness for years.

But the race has not yet been completed, and there is still time to exploit the geographical and natural resource potential that our community possesses.

Among the many positive factors that appeal to new industry or those in a mood to relocate is the climate for doing business without the repressive measures that have become common in so many areas.

East Liverpool today is a good place to work and a good place to operate a business.

City Council has a responsibility to keep it that way.

Any restrictive legislation at a time such as this—when the city is trying to put its best foot forward—could very well have dire consequences.

In its quest for new industry East Liverpool must have something attractive to offer.

This is the time to put out the Welcome sign, not the Caution sign.

A Really Big Show

Anyone who hasn't looked at the intricacies of a smartly tied bowline knot for some time, or sniffed the tangy smoke of a campfire or watched the ingenuity of boys dealing with cookpots should visit the Cherokee Boy Scout District's 'Big Show' at Chester over the weekend.

Scout leaders indicate a variety of activities are planned at the City Park, including a parade, skits, playlets in costume, singing, campfire sessions and stunts, along with exhibits and demonstrations.

Those who have been Boy Scouts will be reminded of busy challenges of mastering new skills. They, along with adults who never earned a merit badge, should find the Chester event as entertaining as Ed Sullivan's "really big show."

Problem For The Legislature

It is conceivable that Ohio's attorney general William B. Saxbe could have tortured and pummeled the statutes long enough and hard enough to give the Medina school board a yes answer to its query on leasing its school buses to a committee of parents to transport children to and from parochial schools.

Such a ruling would have been open to challenge, and the challengers ultimately would have hit on the same argument used by Mr. Saxbe—that no legislative authority has been granted in this state for school boards to let publicly owned equipment be used for the benefit of private school groups.

IF THIS is becoming untenable position, the way to bring about a change is not through interpretations of law but through a new law which stating clearly that the state of Ohio is adopting a new position.

It is conceivable that publicly owned transportation facilities might be used someday to transport parochial school pupils.

Overdue Death Of Me-Too

When the votes had been counted and recounted in November 1960 and some had been shuffled out of sight before an investigation could get under way, Sen. Barry M. Goldwater of Arizona summed up the Democrats' squeaker victory.

He called it a repeat performance of 1944 and 1948 (the Dewey campaigns) when Eastern Republicans insisted on giving voters a choice between the New Deal and "me too."

He said if Nelson A. Rockefeller couldn't even carry New York state for the Republican ticket, it must signify that his political appeal had turned sour.

Asked is he would be a presidential candidate in 1964, Sen. Goldwater said he wanted to figure in selection of a candidate, if only to make sure Gov. Rockefeller, whom he had designated as the symbol of the party's "me-too" liberals, couldn't nail down the nomination.

THUS DIED Republican me-tooism in an almost forgotten interview with a man who read the portents of 1960 correctly. And it is well to remember too, that Sen. Goldwater then and now is a party regular.

Going Through The Motions

The United States—that's our Uncle Sam, baseball fans—is going through the motions of finishing a lost ball game in South Viet Nam.

It now is telling the ruling family of that tight little oligarchy to break itself up so it won't be so powerful. First, President Kennedy gave the word that a breakup would be welcome, the Ambassador Lodge passed it along from his new post in Saigon.

The government is playing out a game it can't win. It is demonstrating what needed no further demonstration—that this country is hooked up uncomfortably in South Viet Nam with a government it doesn't like.

But the fact is that President Ngo Dinh Diem, his brothers and his dynamic sister-in-law, are the only government there is likely to be. They run South Viet Nam because they have power and know how to keep it.

Activity

Have you noticed the weather-spielers never talk about thunderstorms, showers, windstorms and snowstorms on television forecasts but always say "thunderstorm activity," "shower activity" and so on?

During breakfast activity at our place this morning we were speculating about the weather activity that could be expected, which was hard to foretell because of the fog activity at the time.

It ended up by the lady I eat bacon with deciding to play it safe and take along her raincoat for her school-teaching activity, whereupon she left the table for her shower activity while I settled down for another 20 minutes of reading activity.

THIS ACTIVITY HAS become a conditioned reflex of the maternal process, because I have been reading at breakfast so long I cannot carry on chewing activity without carrying on eye activity at the same time.

It is one of the essential parts of my daily routine of mental activity, this reading activity during chewing activity—a combination process of rumination and ingestion.

The only thing wrong with it is that beginning it is easy, but ending it is difficult, such as the morning I was digging into "Lolita" activity along with my poached eggs activity and stepped up the pace of my chewing activity so high I chewed through the side of my face and it was lucky I did because otherwise I would not have known I already was an hour late for work and not shaved yet.

When my cheek stopped bleeding I thrust myself into the world belatedly for another hard day of newspaper activity and the fog activity had disappeared and it was as nice a mess of meteorological activity as any activity-minded person could hope to enjoy.

You'd think with all this activity going on, weather-spielers would find a better way to say it might do something.

Alabama Troop Use Lacked Authority

By DAVID LAWRENCE
President Kennedy at a recent news conference rightly deplored the agitation for quotas as a means of correcting the imbalance of Negroes and whites in employment. The principle he then espoused now has been given support in the first court decision on the subject of "racial imbalance" in the public schools.

The ruling came in New York City, where demonstrations have been going on protesting the "imbalance," even while parents of school children there have been complaining bitterly against having to send their youngsters many blocks away from their own neighborhood under a plan to correct the "imbalance" through artificial "quotas" of different races in the schools.

The court decision—which prohibits assignment of students to schools upon the basis of racial percentages—is being appealed and will go to higher courts. But, since the recent ruling deals for the first time with the problem of "racial imbalance" and was issued not in the non-conformist South but in the supposedly conformist North, the words of Justice Edward G. Baker of the Supreme Court of New York for King County deserve more than the cursory attention they have received. The same issue is bound to arise in other parts of the country to overcome what is called "de facto" segregation.

The proceeding was brought by the parents of two white children to annul a ruling of the Board of Education of the City of New York which established the zone for a new junior high school in Brooklyn scheduled to open this month.

THE BOARD had rejected the zoning recommendation made by Dr. Morris Blodnick, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of that school district, and approved by the local school board. Judge Baker's opinion said:

"The board (of education) officials found that under the Blodnick proposal the racial and ethnic composition of the incoming class would be 52 per cent Negro, 34 per cent Puerto Rican and 14 per cent white; whereas, under the school zone finally approved and adopted, the percentages would be 35.2 per cent Negro, 33.6 per cent Puerto Rican and 31.2 per cent white.

"That racial balance was a compelling factor for the rejection of the Blodnick proposal and for the approval by the board of the zone finally adopted is clear . . .

"As petitioners contend, respondents (the school board) rejected the Blodnick proposal because they found that it provided only 14 per cent white students; They approved a plan which they said would result in 31.2 per cent white students; and, because it would disturb the racial balance set up by their plan, they determined not to transfer Negro and Puerto Rican children from nearby overcrowded junior high schools to the new under-utilized school.

"It must be clear that the racial and ethnic balance accomplished by the movement of the boundary of the new school district southwest to East 93rd St., was not fortuitous but was the result of a fixed purpose on respondents' part to bring more white children into Junior High School No. 275.

"IT'S UNNECESSARY to consider whether respondents' determination was based, in part, on factors other than racial balance. Unquestionably, racial composition or balance was material to the board's determination, and is incapable of separation from the other factors alleged to have been considered.

"The question here to be determined is whether deliberate inclusion of the factor of racial balance as a material basis for the board's determination renders that determination unlawful. Education law, Section 3201 provides as follows:

"No person shall be refused admission into or be excluded from any public school in the State of New York on account of race, creed, color or national origin . . .

"The inclusion of petitioners' children in the school zone approved for Junior High School No. 275, upon the basis of their race, and their consequent exclusion from Junior High School No. 285, their traditional neighborhood school, and from other schools to which they might have been assigned upon a lawful basis, was violative of the spirit and intent of the statute.

"It is important also to note that for every white child required to attend Junior High School No. 275, some child of another race or color will be denied admission. Thus Negro and Puerto Rican children are denied access to a new under-utilized school, because white children, who do not need a new school, are required to attend . . .

"Whatever may have been the factors which impelled its enactment, the statute, by its very terms proscribes exclusion from public schools of any child by reason of race, creed, color or national origin."

PERHAPS the Southern States will find that the New York State law—which, in line with decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, forbids discrimination in assignment to any public school by reason of race or color or ethnic origin—offers a solution to them.

The principle is really in effect already in many Northern States and in the City of Washington. Children are assigned to schools in the neighborhoods where they live, and "de facto" segregation or "token" integration occurs naturally in schools located in districts where whites or Negroes predominate in number.

But racially balanced integration in public schools must be fortuitous and not deliberate if it is to conform to the latest court ruling.

Liberals Eye Johnson As Candidate

By VICTOR RIESEL
The 1964 campaign will begin unusually early—even for a presidential election. It will be opened in New York a year ahead of time on Oct. 15, just about a month from now. There will, in fact, be a double header that night.

The 1968 presidential campaign also will be launched. On that evening, Vice President Lyndon Johnson will be the keynote speaker at the New York Liberal party's annual banquet. A few years ago, the man who loves to refer to himself as "the southern end of the Austin-Boston axis" would have been as out of place on the Liberal party dais as a penguin in the Sahara at high noon.

For, on the speaker's platform, will be men who fought his 1960 nomination; men who are the dynamo of most northern liberal drives; men of the Roosevelt-Lehman-Stevenson tradition; men who lead the most militant political labor forces in the land.

A considerable sum was spent to put the show on the air. That was the turning point in the Kennedy-Johnson New York campaign.

Now, three years later, the Liberal party is featuring Lyndon Johnson. This is no accidental choice. This party has no dearth of speakers. It provides a dinner audience of more than 2,000 leaders of labor, civic and intellectual circles. It has in the past flown prominent international personalities to the United States to be main speakers at the annual event.

The party's selection of Johnson climaxes a drive he began early in 1961. His objective was to become more than acceptable to the northern liberal and labor leaders. He wanted to take the place of Adlai Stevenson and Hubert give the state's electoral votes to John Kennedy.

The President and Robert Kennedy have frequently indicated both their awareness of this and their desire to make certain the Liberal party vote stays with them. Both have been in constant contact—sometimes almost weekly—with the party's officials.

Virtually no one recalls that it was the Liberal party which broke the political ice for John Kennedy back in 1960 when it appeared he might lose the state to Richard Nixon. On Sept. 14, that year, the Liberal party leaders featured a fascinating set of speakers at their annual banquet. It was their way of putting the northern liberal imprimatur on John Kennedy.

NEW YORK'S New Deal labor forces had been for Adlai Stevenson. They were just not going to campaign energetically for John Kennedy.

After some discussion, it was decided to bring Kennedy and Stevenson together to speak on the same dais. Along with them were ex-Senator Lehman and George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO.

A considerable sum was spent to put the show on the air. That was the turning point in the Kennedy-Johnson New York campaign.

Now, three years later, the Liberal party is featuring Lyndon Johnson. This is no accidental choice. This party has no dearth of speakers. It provides a dinner audience of more than 2,000 leaders of labor, civic and intellectual circles. It has in the past flown prominent international personalities to the United States to be main speakers at the annual event.

The party's selection of Johnson climaxes a drive he began early in 1961. His objective was to become more than acceptable to the northern liberal and labor leaders. He wanted to take the place of Adlai Stevenson and Hubert Humphrey in their political hearts. Apparently he has accomplished this.

It was Arthur Goldberg, then secretary of labor, who launched him on this drive with a special private banquet to which most of Johnson's labor opponents were invited. They buried the hatchet, or rather drowned it, in a series of toasts to each other.

SINCE THEN Johnson has gone into union headquarters, saying, "I feel at home here." He has rarely passed up a chance to meet labor leaders.

But not until he was invited to be the chief speaker at the Liberal party banquet, did Lyndon Johnson fulfill his self-made mission. Now, the party's leaders consider him the "spark plug of liberalism in Washington." They have described him as "the consistent forthright champion of liberal causes."

They know their influence in the Democratic party—though they are not part of it—is considerable because their influence in national labor circles is strong.

Thus they are aware that they, the northern liberals, may in effect be nominating a future presidential candidate at their dinner.

Kennedy Vague On Viet

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Kennedy, fed up with the developing chaos in South Viet Nam, has pulled a veil over American actions there. That the United States will act seems certain.

But Kennedy's very vagueness at his news conference Thursday, or rather the way he chose to be vague, can be interpreted as ominous for the dictatorship of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The United States has pumped billions of dollars in aid into Viet Nam—plus troops—to fight the war against Communists, fearing that if Viet Nam is lost all Southeast Asia may be lost.

But Diem and his Roman Catholic family, in a country more than 70 per cent Buddhist, have turned the war into hash and brought the country to internal crisis by their repressions against Buddhists and students.

Some American actions, or pressures, or warnings may have already started.

The State Department has denied that this country's new ambassador to Viet Nam, Henry Cabot Lodge, has told Diem to throw out his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, head of the secret police. Nhu has acquired a sinister stature.

But strangely in the midst of all the domestic turmoil two other extremely important members of Diem's family have already left the country.

One, Nhu's arrogant wife, a storm center in the trouble with the Buddhists, has gone to Belgrade to attend an interparliamentary conference and will later go to New York.

The other, Diem's brother, Archbishop Ngo Dinh Thuc, who is now in Paris, has been in New York after visiting Rome where his scheduled audience with Pope Paul VI was canceled.

The Pope has said he is profoundly disturbed by events in Viet Nam. Thuc said in New York the Vatican had ordered him to shut up on the situation in his country. In short, he was silenced.

Still left in Viet Nam with Diem are his brother, Nhu, and another brother, a powerful but seldom-mentioned figure, Ngo Dinh Can, who holds no official position but is boss of the central part of the country.

Both the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations have handled Diem very gingerly because, so the reports in Washington go, he was strongly anti-Communist and it would be difficult, if not impossible, to find anyone to replace him.

It seems the Diem family traded on the American belief in their indispensability and ran both the war and the country with a high hand. The breaking point started with the conflict with the Buddhists last May, reaching a recent climax.

Thursday, several hours before Kennedy's news conference, 22 senators introduced a resolution to put Congress on record as favoring a halt to all aid to Diem unless he abandons his policies of "repression" and seeks popular support.

Then at his conference Kennedy said this country will support what helps the war against the Communists, oppose what hinders it. He added: "I do not think it advisable to state all our views at this time. I think they will be made more clear as time goes on."

Negro Leaders Call Off Demonstrations

HIGH POINT, N.C. (AP)—Negro leaders have agreed to suspend mass demonstrations and most picketing in exchange for a pledge of firmer action on their desegregation demands which have resulted in racial violence and mass arrests.

However, Mayor Floyd Mehan and the Rev. B. Elton Cox, a field representative for the Congress of Racial Equality, disagreed publicly on some provisions of the truce reached Thursday.

The agreement calls for appointment of a permanent human relations commission to work toward a solution of the segregation problem. Mehan said the commission is to be established within 90 days, with a full report of progress to be made at that time.

The truce temporarily eased racial tension.

Portsmouth Concern Sets Expansion Plan

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—One of Portsmouth's oldest firms, the Williams Manufacturing Co., makers of women's and children's shoes, has announced plans for a two-phase expansion program.

Company President William O. Lucas said the firm soon will begin production of a new line of "high priced" women's shoes and will take over the former Selby Shoe Co. building to handle that operation. Also, Lucas said, Williams has bought the Lucie Footwear Co. at Williamsport, Pa., and will manufacture children's shoes there as a subsidiary company to be known as the Lymcom Shoe Co.

Cleaning Due Water Source At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Water service will be curtailed either Tuesday or Wednesday to permit cleaning of the village reservoir west of here, Ernest Madison, water department superintendent, announced today.

The 340,000-gallon reservoir, which has not been cleaned for a number of years, will be permitted to drain in normal use, and it cannot be determined just when the proper level will be reached for the scrubbing down by the village crew, he said.

Residents on the hills will be without water during the cleaning period, while water available along Main St. and in other lower areas will be at low pressure, he explained.

The one-day cleaning will be followed by a constant pumping to bring the water level up to the normal level, he said.

For Community Good

Improvement Group Plans Permanent Unit

Plans for a permanent organization to govern the newly-formed Community Improvement Corp. of the East Liverpool Area were established at a meeting of a 16-man steering committee Thursday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The organization meeting will be held Sept. 26 at 8 p. m. at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex when 21 trustees will be elected and bylaws adopted for the non-profit organization.

W. D. Ogilvie, temporary chairman, appointed two committees for the meeting.

Named to the nominating committee were Robert Boyce, William B. Cooper, David Beatty, William Williams and Ralph Finley. Serving on the by-laws committee will be Atty. Ben Berman.

Planner Unit Chairman Set

would be concerned with preparation of subdivision regulations, aiding townships and communities wishing to adopt zoning and initiation of improvement projects.

THE NEED for an overall planning program was cited for economy and efficiency. For example, homes are being built in suburban areas without provisions for adequate sewer and water facilities.

Also, the county is not getting its proportionate share of industry, new highways should be coordinated with future growth of the county, recreation areas should be promoted and most efficient use of land should be planned.

The commission currently represents the county's 18 townships along with East Liverpool and Columbiana.

THE 17 representatives already chosen for the 19-member commission include Bloomgren, be about a year. He said the time factor is indefinite because of the recent change of administration and the consequent change of personnel on the commission.

Crucible has taken some steps toward improvement, he said, with filters on their sintering plant. He said improvements in the open-hearth operation are usually slow because of the cost factor, pointing out the usual expense is about $1 million per furnace. He pledged the commission's co-operation in the borough's battle for cleaner air.

In other business, bids were opened from the Donora Construction Co. of Donora, for $17,517, and the George Stuenkel Co. of Midland for $9,996, for construction of a manhole and cover and repairs to a 48-inch sewage passage. The bids were turned over to the E. R. Steebner, borough engineer, for study and recommendation.

Howard Vaughn, 323 Penn. Ave., was granted permission to cut the curb in front of his home and William Kelly of Darlington R. D. 1 was authorized to act as caretaker of the borough's dumping site in return for salvage of metals.

Ohioville Borough's request that its police department continue a radio hookup with the Midland department was turned over to Mayor Eli Corak and the police committee for study. A bill of $264.76 for water damages in the basement of a home at 25 8th St. was referred to the insurance company.

Presutti said he had received many complaints from millworkers about the traffic congestion in the 3d St. area during shift changes. The problem apparently results from the late opening of the mill gates and blocking of the roadway by Pennsylvania Railroad cars on tracks which cross the exit. The mayor and the police committee are to seek a solution.

The mayor and police department were also asked to check into numerous complaints about parking in the Midland area. Councilman Lester Trainer said parking enforcement in the area had been lax and that residents are abusing the privilege especially in the loop area.

Officers' reports were accepted and bills were ordered paid. Next meeting is Sept. 26.

Steele, Richard McCullough and Glenn Waigert of East Liverpool; Coie and Richard Emmerling of East Liverpool; members-at-large; Allan Dalrymple for Yellow Creek, Wayne, Washington, Franklin and Madison Townships; H. R. Firestone for Butler and Perry Townships.

H. R. Sanford for Liverpool Township; Richard Mattern for St. Clair Township; Sanor; Robert Grim for Unity and Fairfield Townships; County Commissioners Hunston, Galen Greenisen and James Boyd, and County Engineer Charles Snyder.

Discussion was held on whether to name two more at-large members, but it was agreed the matter will be worked out at the next meeting to be called when the constitution committee has prepared its report.

DISCUSSION was also held on asking a state or area planning authority to address the group.

Greenisen, along with at least four city men, indicated they planned to attend a regional meeting of the Ohio Planning Conference today at Youngstown.

The city group included Steele, Don Eckert of the City Planning Commission, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen and E. R. Chandler, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Pocketbook On Roof Seen Purse Snatching

A pocketbook apparently owned by a New York woman was discovered Thursday night on the roof of the American Poolroom building on E. 6th St. by William Drane, a dispatcher for the D. M. Ogilvie & Co., police reported.

Investigating the report, Lt. C. E. (Bill) Tice and Patrolman Jerry Adkins went to the roof and found the purse. Papers indicated it was the property of Ann Gerson of Woodcrest, N. Y., officers said.

How the pocketbook got on the roof remained a mystery, but it may have been discarded by a pursesnatcher, police theorized.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I'm a farmer's wife. Having 16 children — yes, I have 16 — I make and change 12 beds each week, which have 24 pillows ... may I suggest to your newlyweds and others how to make their own pillows.

We use a strong mosquito netting and put our original feathers in this netting. Then I use pillow ticking to cover this. When it comes time to wash our pillows—and remember I wash 24 of them every six months—I remove the ticking from the pillows and wash the feathers in the mosquito netting in a mild soap suds in my washing machine. Therefore, I have no problem of air in pillow ticking and the feathers get completely washed!

This could be done with any strong porous material.

I have read many columns where people wash their pillows and cannot dry the feathers out because they pack. This is because when they try to dry them in heavy ticking the air can't get to them.

With all my brood, I have found out that it's not so much the mattress but the pillow that makes a good night's sleeping.

A GRANDMOTHER TOO.

Dear Grandma: After all the experiments we have made for washing pillows I think you've got the answer! Bless you and drink your cup of coffee with us all this morning. Love always.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: How can I remove the odor from soiled socks?

SOXY.

Dear Soxy: Lots of people have this problem. There's one solution that might help.

After a thorough washing, rinse socks thoroughly in one-fourth cup white vinegar to one gallon of water. Let 'em soak a while. Squeeze during soaking. Do NOT rinse again (unless allergic to vinegar, but I have never met anyone who is!) Let dry in sunshine.

Most odors are caused from accumulated bacteria and soap film. This washing method will help get rid of the soap film and the bacteria will wash away.

Also makes for real black socks ... instead of those horrible gray "things" I see on some men!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I read the hint from the lady who dropped a few drops of cake coloring on her angel food cake batter and cut it through the cake with a knife before baking.

I often add a few drops of each color on my cake batter before I even pour it into the cake pans. As the batter goes into the pan it will make lovely patterns come out a beautiful rainbow cake. This method works well with all types of cakes, especially white, yellow, light spice or fruit-type cakes.

I usually put in about two drops of red, then yellow, then green. If you wish you can take your spatula and stir a little bit before pouring the batter into your pans. I seldom do as I like the color pattern far better the other way.

M. C.

DEAR HELOISE: To peel hard-boiled eggs easily — boil, cool a bit, then hit each end of the egg on the sink or counter. Roll the egg between your hands hard enough to completely crush the shell. It then comes off without having to "pick it off" in little pieces. I can peel two dozen eggs in 10 minutes.

For those who do not have room in their refrigerators for onions (ladies, if you keep onions in the refrigerator you will not shed tears while cutting them nor will they smell - H.).

I peel my onions but do not cut off the root end because that's where the tears come from. Try slicing or cutting an onion right down to the root and you won't cry a bit.

A. G.

Just try it, gals! And the root end is where the little roots are or where the bottom of the onion was when it was planted.

HELOISE.

30 At Roundtable Session For Cherokee Scout Leaders

Thirty attended the Cherokee District Scout Roundtable Wednesday night at the YMCA. Bill Jones, assistant district commissioner, was in charge.

Russell Howell, cubmaster of Pack 59, directed group singing. Bennett Taylor of Lisbon, Columbus Council executive, spoke on the importance of service to units and the pitfalls of putting too much work on any one person. He gave tips on unit operation.

Bill Rayburn, camping and activities chairman, reported on the Cherokee District "Big Show" slated this weekend at Chester City Park.

The public is invited. Scout units with questions should contact Bernard Locke at 385-9305, cub call Bob Reed at 387-1916, Explorers contact Rayburn at 385-2245.

Jones reported on the cubber Pow Wow slated Sept. 29 at Salem Senior High School Registration is at 1:30 p.m.

A junior leaders instructors training course for Boy Scouts will be held Oct. 18-20 at Camp McKinley. Unit leaders have been sent information.

Mrs. William Jones conducted the handicraft session for den mothers. Jones held sessions for cub and scout leaders, assisted by Taylor and Rayburn.

A cake, donated by Mrs. Jacqueline Casto, den mother of Pack 12, was purchased at an auction by Robert Kayes, neighborhood commissioner. Pack 12 won the attendance award. Jones won "hooby prize" in singing.

Next roundtable is Oct. 9 at the YMCA.

First campaign report meeting will be held on Oct. 1. Subsequent report meetings will be held every Tuesday until the completion of the campaign.

Harry McKenny of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. and a member of the United Fund Speakers Bureau, spoke at Tuesday's meeting to about 20 solicitors.

One Of FBI's 10 Most Wanted Men Is Arrested

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of the FBI's 10 most wanted men, who had built up a thriving business in the more than a year he had lived in Cleveland, has been arrested by FBI agents and Cleveland police.

The fugitive, identified as Leroy Ambrosia Frazier, 43, offered no resistance when he was nabbed. He had been living under the name of Johnny Gray.

He had been sought since Jan. 14, 1962, when he escaped from the maximum security ward at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Frazier was to be arraigned on a fugitive charge today.

He had been sentenced to the Lorton, Va., Reformatory in January 1959 upon conviction for possessing heroin and for assaulting a policeman. He was transferred to the hospital in Washington after threatening to kill guards and fellow prisoners and also threatening to jump off the top of a high water tower, the FBI said.

Frazier, who had purchased two trucks and built up a general contracting business since coming here Jan. 27, 1962, said he had earned $16,000 last year.

Minnesota Lawyer Elected

New Legion Head Calls For Overthrow Of Castro

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With a mandate to press for action to overthrow Fidel Castro's Cuban regime, Dan Foley took over today as national commander of the American Legion.

Foley, 41, a Wabasha, Minn., lawyer, was elected Thursday at the close of the Legion's annual convention.

Foley pledged support of the Legion platform, which demanded forceful measures against communism all around the globe. He said history has shown "time and time again that the course of extremism, either to the left or to the right, is the course of failure."

Foley told the Legionnaires, who had just voted for ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty, that "because the Soviet Union has been willing to become a party to no evidence that communism has abandoned its long pronounced objective of world conquest."

"It simply means, that for the time being, it does not best serve the cause of communism to engage in an all-out nuclear arms race," he said.

"The Communists have shown no inclination to decrease pressures now being applied to our sister republics to the south."

He said Red Cuba is the springboard for introduction of propaganda, sabotage and potential revolt in some areas of the hemisphere.

The resolution demanding the overthrow of Castro accused President Kennedy's administration of "timidity and vacillation" which it said "has gravely injured United States prestige and has brought humiliation and embarrassment to the American people." It demanded whatever steps necessary, including unilateral military force, to overthrow Castro. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Lisbon Band Parents Start Plans On Membership Drive

The Lisbon Band Parents held their first meeting of the term Wednesday night at David Anderson High School and Mrs. Edgar Chapman, president, announced the annual membership drive will be launched Monday after classes.

Band members, directed by John Cretaura, band director, will canvass the town. Proceeds will go to the band uniform fund.

Purchase of new material for majorette uniforms was approved and committee chairmen were announced for monthly fund-raising projects.

Superintendent Attends
Supt. Oliver Payne, George M. Nace Jr., principal of the high school, and Cretaura attended to answer questions concerning the band.

Miss Sarah Thorne Weds In Bethel Church Nuptials

The Bethel Presbyterian Church near Highlandtown was the scene of the wedding of Miss Sarah Leatha Thorne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Thorne of Salineville, R. D. 1, and Michael Benza Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Benza of Parma, Saturday evening.

The Rev. William Harper performed the double - ring ceremony at 7:30 o'clock, before the candlelighted altar, decorated with palms, ferns, yellow gladioli and white chrysanthemums.

Miss Nancy Clark was organist and accompanied Mrs. Sue McGeehan, who sang "O Promise Me," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was escorted to the altar by her uncle, Lodge Thorne, of Lisbon.

She wore a gown of white nylon sheer, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long, tapered sleeves, embellished with Alencon lace medallions and sequins.

The long skirt, edged with Alencon lace, featured a front pick-up, held by lace rosettes and a back panel of the lace, highlighted at the waist by rosettes.

A bridal crown of pearls and crystals held her bouffant veil of silk illusion and she carried a cascade of orchids and white gladioli.

Miss Kay Thorne served as maid of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids were Miss Marge Gooding, college roommate of the bride, Miss Jetty Liggett of Lisbon and Miss Sonja Benza, sister of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor wore a gown of champagne brocade with moulded bodice, rounded neckline and short sleeves. The bell-shaped skirt was accented by a bow at the back waistline. A matching circlet of pearls and velvet leaves, with a pout veil, completed her ensemble. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and white gladioli.

The bridesmaids wore gowns identical to that of the maid of honor and matching flowers.

Junior bridesmaids, Misses Sally and Sue Thorne, nieces of the bride, wore matching yellow brocade dresses, yellow velvet ribbon belts and white velvet crowns with small pout veils. They carried Colonial bouquets of yellow and white flowers.

Miss Susan Faluski, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a dress of yellow organza and a white lace and flowered headpiece and carried a basket of yellow and white petals. Bill Faluski, also a cousin, was ring bearer.

John Benza of Parma served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Robert Thorne of Akron, William Thorne of Pittsburgh and Walter Thorne of Salineville, all brothers of the bride.

The reception followed in the social room. A yellow and white theme was used in the decorations. The bride's table, overlaid with white linen, was centered by a three - tier wedding cake topped by miniature bridal pair. Yellow and white gladioli surrounded the base with lighted matching candles.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece brown Glen Plaid dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother chose a gold shift dress, with black accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Those who served at the reception were Mrs. Lodge Thorne and Mrs. Jonathon Loudon of Lisbon, aunts of the bride, Mrs. William Thorne of Pittsburgh, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Velma Brinker of Lisbon.

Guests from Maryland, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Cleveland, Canton, Akron, Wellsville, East Liverpool, Salem and Lisbon were registered by Miss Carol Hart of Lisbon.

The bride is a graduate of David Anderson High School in Lisbon, and Central Technical Institute of Kansas City, Mo., and is attending Ohio State University, majoring in education.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Parma High School and of Ohio State University School of Civil Engineering, is with Williams-Halishak Engineers & Associates of Maple Heights.

For a wedding trip to Washington and New York, the bride's going-away outfit was a three-piece cranberry knit suit with black patent accessories.

The newlyweds will reside near Cleveland.

A rehearsal party was held Friday evening at the home of the bride's parents when gifts were presented the bridal attendants.

Thank-Offering Preview Slides Shown To Group

Color slides of a thank - offering preview were shown at the meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian Church Monday night.

Mrs. T. Fred Edwards, program chairman, and Mrs. Willis Gaston gave the commentary for Miss Kay Edwards' screening.

Mrs. William Ogilvie conducted worship and led the Bible study on the chapter, "And Sent Forth," from the book, "One People of God."

Mrs. Elvin Weir led the prayer cycle.

Mrs. G. C. McBane of Espanola, N.M., former church secretary, spoke on the work of her son, the Rev. Emerson McBane, missionary in Pakistan.

Mrs. Steve Richman, president, presided for business. Tentative plans were made for a visit to the Mars (Pa.) Children's Home. Announcement was made of a proposed tour Sept. 24-26 of Frenchburg and Pikeville, Ky., arranged by the Steubenville Presbyterian. Mrs. Herbert Frischkorn, president, is taking bus reservations for the three-day trip.

Members will attend the fall meeting of District 1 Oct. 15 at Irondale.

Recognition was given to the 28 who completed reading the mission study books.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Skidmore, Mrs. John Cooper and Miss Matilda Rutledge.

A Family Night smorgasbord dinner will feature the meeting Oct. 14. Mrs. Hugh Barbour is chairman. Mrs. Thomas Miller and Mrs. Kenneth Baxter will have the program.

Lausche Plan OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP)—A proposal by Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, has been tacked onto the administration's public accommodations bill—a ban on racial discrimination by labor unions. The Senate Commerce Committee approved Lausche's suggestion to broaden the proposed legislation.

Rogers WSCS Will Convene

The WSCS of the Rogers Methodist Church will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Mary Edmunds. Mrs. Ruby McMillan will be leader.

The Pythian Sisters will serve a turkey supper Saturday night starting at 5 at the lodge hall. Ten attended a meeting of the WCTU Tuesday with Mrs. Floda Siers, at which readings were given by Mrs. Edith Moore, president, and Mrs. Bessie Pike.

Mrs. Siers was named corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Jene Baker was named program literature leader. Lunch was served. Mrs. Olive Dickey will be the next hostess.

Pfc. Donald Hoon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hoon, left Tuesday from Youngstown Airport for San Francisco and a tour of duty in Korea. He had been stationed at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart and family have moved into the former Depot St. home of Mrs. Elizabeth Brugh, who moved to E. Martin St., East Palestine.

Mrs. Della Wilson has moved into the Signal apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas have moved into the tenant house of the Mrs. Iris Bell farm north of here.

Early saws made of stone were believed first used in the Neolithic period.

JoAnn McCullough Weds T. D. Howell At West Point

The West Point Church of the Nazarene was the scene for the marriage of Miss JoAnn McCullough and Thomas Dale Howell the evening of Aug. 30 at 7 o'clock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. McCullough of Wellsville, R. D. 1, and her husband is the son of Mrs. Cardie Howell of 18th St. Heights Wellsville, and the late Thomas Howell.

The double - ring ceremony, with the Rev. James Conrad, officiating, was performed before an altar banked with white flowers, ferns and seven - branch candelabra. Satin bows marked the family pews.

Ronald Orr of East Liverpool played the piano and Miss Sherry Howell, niece of the bridegroom, sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride was given in marriage and escorted to the altar by her father. Her gown of Chantilly lace and taffeta featured a fitted bodice and a Sabrina neckline and long, lace sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held in place by a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with two orchids, lilies-of-the-valley and streamers. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Sally McCullough, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and wore a blue chiffon dress and a headpiece featuring a Dior bow with a theater veil.

The bride's mother wore a beige ensemble with brown and white accessories and a red rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a two - piece brown outfit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

Russell Howell served as his brother's best man. Ushers were John McCullough, brother of the bride and Ronnie Howell, nephew of the bridegroom.

A reception for 120 followed in the Grange Hall. The buffet table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a four-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Aides were Mrs. Nancy Henry, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Oda Mae Howell, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Velma Chamberlain.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Dave And Chet Have Had It

My wife just informed me that she'll never watch Huntley and Brinkley again.

It was no personal grudge, but inspired by watching the torch-lighting ceremony here at the Kauai Surf Hotel.

About the same time of evening when the Messrs. Huntley and Brinkley usually are bringing us the world's ill tidings, Percy Leleo Kinimaka and his Kauai Surf beach boys are instead kidding us into believing that peace and beauty are running rampant.

We lean over the railing of the balcony outside our room and see red-sashed Hawaiian boys row their flame-decked outrigger onto the beach.

AS THEY RUN to light the torches, Percy adds to the fantasy with a dreamy narration punctuated with an occasional beat on a huge tom-tom and a wail or two on a conch shell.

The Hawaiian sky lights up from the setting sun like a picture postcard, and it is right about then that you make some secret vow similar to the ultimatum my mate hurled at the innocent team of Huntley-Brinkley.

It says on a card in our room that it is possible to rent a TV set, but the last guy who availed himself of this service was, I'm told, committed to the booby hatch by his wife. Just the simple fact that he ordered the TV was evidence enough for the judge.

IF YOU ARE a recent arrival from the Mainland, it is not necessary to look at TV anywhere in Hawaii for at least a week. All network programs are air-mailed over here and shown anywhere from a week to three weeks later.

The only ones who actually suffer from this arrangement are sports fans. They either have to refrain from reading newspapers, listening to radio and talking to friends or pretend that the game never really takes place until they see it on TV. This also is a good way to get yourself committed to a laughing academy.

One evening the Kauai Surf management brought in a travel film producer to show off his wares. I thought it was sort of ridiculous, since most of the films were on Hawaii. But a fellow traveler named Hans Cahen from Chicago thought it was a fine idea.

"OF COURSE IT WENT," said Hans later. "The films were good, and they saved me from doing a lot of tiresome sightseeing."

Hans doesn't mind the traveling part of travel, because he had just come from a visit in Japan. He also was impressed, he said, with what he saw of that country. It's the actual sightseeing which wears him down.

For people like Hans, some smart promoter is going to install TV sets in hotels and show nothing but closed circuit travel films of the surrounding area.

WHEN WE WERE at the Hawaiian Village on Waikiki last week, I noticed a TV set in the lobby which was running full blast every afternoon and evening.

Parked in front of it was an assortment of kids in bathing suits and other vacation raiment, all watching movies several years older than they were.

It must have been rather disheartening to their parents, who undoubtedly were thinking how much money might have been saved by leaving the kids at home to watch that same old movie.

IT'S RATHER frightening to imagine how many Americans are scattered around the world right at this moment, staring at TV sets carrying old American movies.

Luckily for me, Pam-Am's clipper jets have not yet installed TV, so there will be no Huntley-Brinkley riding with us when we head homeward this week.

Unhappily, there will be no Percy Kinimaka and his torch lighters either.

Old Turtle Given New Carvings By Salineville Youth

SALINEVILLE — Within a few weeks, a well-whittled turtle is scheduled to return to his old crawling grounds where — if tradition holds — he will be found in another quarter century for another set of initials.

Tom Manning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Manning of Jefferson St., has added his name and "1963" to the back of the turtle which already bears the inscriptions "E. Hazel 1912" and "C.E.L. 1938."

Tom, an eighth grader, and Larry Secura, 23, of High St. found the turtle Monday along Route 644 while squirrel hunting near the Hazel farm.

"E. Hazel" is apparently the late Emil Hazel who found the turtle 51 years ago and carved his name upon it.

"C.E.L." represents Charles and Elmer Lohman whose farms adjoin the Hazel property and who found the turtle in 1933 and left their inscription.

Tommy, who already has four other turtles, three dogs, a parakeet and a canary, is busy feeding his new guest — about 6 inches in diameter with a dark brown and grey shell — grasshoppers, flies and other delicacies.

He plans to keep it until Mrs. Emil Hazel of W. Main St. returns from a visit at Weirton so he can show her the name of her late husband.

Then, it's back to the old Hazel farm for another long wait, Tommy hopes.

The area affected will be generally as follows:

Route 30 from the Chester Go Cart Track, East to Pennsylvania State Line; Route 2 from intersection of Route 30 South to Gas Valley Road and the area East of Route 2 to Pennsylvania State Line; Area near Hilltop Drive-In Theater; Middle Run Road, 1 Mile North of Route 2; and Shepherd Valley, South to Tomlinson Run Park.

In case of inclement weather, the work will be rescheduled for Sunday, September 22, 1963 for the same hours.

MONONGAHELA POWER COMPANY

In Few Months, Experts Predict Soviet Spaceships Seen Exploring Moon Shortly

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet spaceships soon will begin exploring the moon, perhaps within a few months, some space scientists predict.

Carrying automatic instruments, they could turn the moon into a Soviet scientific garden.

Long before American astronauts land on the moon, Soviet scientists could reap answers to major mysteries about the moon's surface, its craters, its interior, and perhaps its probable origin.

The Soviets already have a rocket—used to hurl their cosmonauts around the earth—powerful enough to land sensitive automatic instruments softly on the moon, one U.S. expert says. But it will be two years or more before the United States has a moon rocket capable of doing the same thing, he claims.

"It is only logical to expect the Russians to begin intensive exploration of the moon by remote control—which we would do right now if we could," said this scientist, who asked not to be quoted by name.

Sir Bernard Lovell, British radio astronomer, has predicted the Soviets would be making "soft" landings of instruments on the moon, possibly within a matter of months.

"The signs seem to point to imminent Soviet landings on the moon with highly sophisticated instruments," the American scientist said. "We presume the Russians will want to do the same type of exploration we plan to do before sending men to an unknown place."

The U.S. plans call for orbiting a television-equipped spacecraft around the moon, and for landing automatic instruments, in the program known as Surveyor.

The rocket for the Surveyor landings is the Centaur, using liquid hydrogen fuel. The timetable for Centaur has slipped nearly two years, the scientist said.

"We're simply stymied for lack of a rocket booster. With their head start on powerful boosters, the Russians could skim the cream in scientific exploration of the moon. I think we have to expect it."

The Soviets already have sent a space probe smashing into the moon's face, and taken some television photographs of its backside, as well as sending probes past the moon. One American Ranger probe hit the back side of the moon.

Projects Set At Salineville

Plans to send Christmas boxes to missionaries in Kentucky were made at a meeting of the Ruth Rachel Circle of the Salineville Calvary United Presbyterian Church Wednesday night at the chapel.

The group also discussed serving a public dinner Election Day Nov. 5. Plans were aired for the annual fall bazaar.

Mrs. Bea Hazlett, president, was in charge. Mrs. Barbara Meyers led the Bible lesson and Mrs. Helen James conducted devotions. Lunch was served by Mrs. Beulah Goddard and Mrs. Margaret Carter.

Mrs. Esther Taylor, district deputy, and Mrs. Leslie Thomas, representative, both of East Liverpool, were guests at a meeting of the Cable Rebekah Lodge Tuesday night at the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Margaret Enright, noble grand, presided. The lodge was presented a cutglass vase and rose by the guests.

Hostesses were Mrs. Cleda Cassidy and Mrs. Jennie Bettis. A practice session will be held Sept. 24 in preparation for the annual inspection. Twenty-two attended.

Mrs. Richard Baker, Mrs. Eugene O'Donnell, Mrs. George Hazlett and Mrs. Margaret Enright visited at Canton Thursday.

Mrs. Fred Polan of Maple Addition is convalescing following her return from City Hospital.

Hard Storm Rips Central Part Of Ohio

By The Associated Press
Severe thundersqualls, bringing along hail, high winds and an apparent tornado or two, struck Central Ohio and greater Cincinnati with damaging effect Thursday afternoon.

Pickerington, in Fairfield County southeast of Columbus, felt the wrath of a big blow that tore off parts of houses, barns, corn cribs, garages and trees. The storm carried debris a half-mile in some instances and slammed it into other buildings.

At Pickerington High School, the window of an eighth-grade classroom crashed in on the students, injuring seven. The most seriously wounded was a girl who had to have glass removed from an eye.

At the Myrtle Milnor farm in Pickerington, the family had just sat down to dinner when just about everything around them crumbled. Several outbuildings were leveled, half a two-story barn blew away, a garage caved in on the two cars inside and flying debris hit the farm house, knocking down chimney bricks and roofing. No one was hurt.

To the northwest, in Union County, a large barn was felled at Broadway, eight miles north of Marysville. Studding was ripped off Broadway Elementary School. There were no injuries.

In Columbus, wind gusts were clocked at up to 48 miles per hour as almost an inch of rain fell in 20 minutes. Damage amounted to $3,000 at Price Field, an airport on the East Side where a funnel cloud was seen, as the corner of a hangar was ripped off and two parked planes were wrecked.

Weatherman Howard Kenny was receiving his 35-year pin for service with the U.S. Weather Bureau at Port Columbus when the rains came—some of them right under the bureau door. The ceremony went on while the floor was being mopped up.

Galena in Delaware County had hailstones larger than golf balls.

Hamilton's North and West End areas were without electricity for a time after the Southwest Ohio storm knocked out lines. A farm barn was destroyed at Hoovert, near Cincinnati, in a fire touched off by lightning. Traffic was blocked on U.S. 52 in Miamitown by a fallen tree.

Vote Slated On Plan To End Long Strike

CLEVELAND (AP)—Members of United Auto Workers Local 756 are to vote tonight on a tentative agreement that would end the 143-day-old strike at Brush Beryllium Co., manufacturer of defense materials.

A company spokesman said if the agreement is ratified the employees will return to work Monday. The plant has been idle since the 109 UAW members went on strike April 22.

Terms of the settlement, reached with the aid of federal mediators, were not disclosed pending tonight's vote. The contract reportedly would run to July 30, 1965, with a provision for a wage reopener next year.

Tito's Planned Visit Sends Bow To Files

WASHINGTON (AP)—The word that Yugoslavia's President Tito is coming to confer Oct. 17 with President Kennedy has led Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, to look into his old files. He said he was reviewing his 1957 resolution denying funds to entertain Tito when the Red dictator was thinking of visiting President Eisenhower.

Bow said Thursday he hadn't decided yet whether to introduce such a resolution again. But he said he didn't care for the idea of entertaining a man "who recently embraced Khrushchev."

Shawnee Scout Unit Will Meet At Lisbon

LISBON — The Shawnee Boy Scout district committee will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Old Stone House at Camp McKinley.

Institutional representatives will be placed on committees and the manpower shortage in scout work will be discussed.

New Electronic Defense

Airborne Radar Screen Keeps Vigil In Northeast

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force disclosed today that an airborne radar screen is keeping a missile defense watch along the eastern approaches to North America.

Lt. Gen. Herbert B. Thatcher, commander of the Air Defense Command, announced that four-engine patrol planes, operating out of Otis Air Force Base, Mass., maintain surveillance by means of a new electronic defense known as Airborne Long-Range Input, known as ALRI.

Thatcher also disclosed that inauguration of the airborne system was a significant factor in the Air Force decision earlier this year to discontinue operation of the Texas Tower radar stations off the New England Coast.

He said the new system demonstrated that the ocean-based Texas Towers could be shut down without loss of adequate air defense radar surveillance.

Thatcher said planes patrol hundreds of miles out at sea to provide an improved air defense shield over the horizon and far beyond the range of shore-based radar and line-of-sight radio communications, he said.

Thatcher said the new system attained operational status this week following extensive operational tests.

From their altitude vantage points, the flying radar stations sweep the horizon seaward in all directions. The system is designed to guard against surprise attack from any flight level, right down to the water.

Target information is automatically processed and transmitted to East Coast centers by way of shore-based communication relay points and goes directly into computers to become an active part of the air defense function.

The one-kilowatt ultra high frequency transmitters employed are "among the most powerful ever to be airborne," Thatcher said.

The new system was developed for the Air Force by Electronic Communications, Inc., St. Petersburg, Fla.

Thatcher made his information available in advance of an address to the annual meeting of the Air Force Association.

Nurses Name Delegate Trio

Delegates to the state convention Oct. 3-7 at Columbus were named at the meeting of District 7 of the Ohio Student Nurses Association Wednesday night at the Elks Club ballroom. About 125 attended.

Miss Judy Vaughan will represent the district and Miss Vera Durany and Miss Nancy Payton, the East Liverpool group. All are juniors.

Miss Henrietta Butler of Steubenville, president, and Miss Donna Armerst of East Liverpool, vice president, presided. The group is comprised of student nurses of Steubenville, Martins Ferry and East Liverpool.

Miss Susan Vaupel, program chairman, introduced members of the Lewis-Weinberger & Hill Academy of Cosmetology, who presented hair styles suitable for nurse caps, and spoke on good grooming and the use of makeup in nursing.

Mrs. Louise Horsley was commentator; Miss Carol Wilham, instructor; Mrs. Mabel Richards and Miss Marilyn Mills, demonstrators, and Miss Shirley Church and Miss Lea Springer, models. A buffet luncheon was served by the students under the supervision of Mrs. Alice Allman, an instructor in the school.

6th Class To Start For Retarded School

LISBON — Columbiana County's Retarded Children's School at Elkton will start the sixth class Monday, according to Robert Bycroft, county welfare director and head of the school.

Robert (Chick) Ashton, 228 S. Lincoln Ave., who is attending Youngstown University, will be the teacher. He formerly worked in the office of the R. Thomas Co. of H. K. Porter, Inc.

At present, there are 57 students with two or three more expected.

An experiment on several new workshop projects will be held within the next couple months, Bycroft said.

Brazil Probes Brief Revolt By Officers

BRASILIA, Brazil (AP)—Government officials launched an investigation today to determine the responsibility of Thursday's brief revolt in this capital by non-commissioned Brazilian officers demanding the right to run for office.

The War Ministry announced Thursday night that 550 to 600 insurgents from the air force, marines and navy were in custody. No army personnel were involved, the ministry said.

The predawn uprising was attributed to a ruling earlier this week by Brazil's supreme electoral tribunal. The ruling has been interpreted as barring military men from running for public office.

Normalcy returned to Brasilia although government troops in the capital and certain outlying cities remained in a state of alert.

Informants said an air force first sergeant, Antonio Prestes de Paula, led the uprising. However, a rebel sergeant said the movement, described as subversive by the armed forces ministers, had no specific leader.

"We are all responsible," the sergeant told a newsman. "It wasn't an armed movement, otherwise we would have resisted longer. We didn't want to shoot Brazilians. We only wanted to call attention to our problems."

HORSES—INSIDE AND OUT

Q. Is horsemanship riding good exercise? Is it true that "the outside of a horse is good for the inside of the man?"
A. Equestrians will probably flood us with letters explaining the inside/outside-man/horse relationship but frankly, we have never heard the expression. If the number of sore muscles a novice gets from riding a horse is any indication, horsemanship riding must head the "good exercise" list.

EYE CARE

Q. I have considerable trouble with my eyes. The lids itch and my eyes water a great deal. Would eye drops help? I am 74 years old.
A. Eye drops would not be advisable unless prescribed by your doctor. As we age, the skin and mucous membranes become thinner and more sensitive to physical irritants such as cold, heat, and light. Moderation is called for—in eating, bathing (water should not be too hot or too cold), sunbathing, exposure to wind, etc. As for the eyes, persons over 50 or so should have regular checkups, just to rule out serious trouble.

Newell Civic Group To Ask Cut In Speed

The Newell Civic Council plans action in about a week in attempts to have the West Virginia State Road Commission reduce speed limits through school zones in the community.

Mrs. Sadye Nally, president, advised the Council at a meeting Thursday night that some 15 petitions will be ready in about a week to be sent to Burl Sawyers of Charleston, head of the SRC. The petitions list hundreds of names of those who protest raising of speed limits in school zones from 15 to 30 miles per hour. Speed limits elsewhere in the community have been raised from 25 to 40, Mrs. Nally explained.

Ten attended at the American Legion home. A special meeting was set Oct. 10 at 8 p. m. at the post home. Arch Coen, Arnie Durham and Leonard Copstick will serve refreshments.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has been an executive with his company for many years. He has had the same secretary from the day he started. I know she is extremely valuable to him.

He recently accepted a position with another firm and will be leaving Nov. 15. He wants to take his secretary with him.

The secretary is married to a nice man and I can bet my life there is nothing between her and my husband except business. Never once in the many years they have worked together have I had cause to be suspicious.

But I feel strongly that it would be improper to take the woman along because people do gossip and I don't think he should supply them with this juicy material. Do you agree — yes or no? — S-4.

Dear S-4: Tongues have wagged from the beginning of time — both with and without valid reasons — so don't try to play a defensive game against gossip or you'll drive yourself out of your mind.

The only consideration should be this: Does your husband want the secretary to go with him? He does and therefore he should ask her.

Accommodating Guests

Dear Ann: Please tell me if I'm right or wrong. Is it good manners for a guest who is visiting your home to answer the telephone in your absence?

I left the house for about an hour yesterday and my sister-in-law who lives in another city was visiting me. The telephone rang and she answered it. It was my daughter calling me long distance. We always call each other station-to-station which means we must pay for the call no matter who answers.

My daughter was very angry when she got her aunt on the phone and I'm steaming myself. I say a guest has no right to answer a phone in someone else's home. I would no more think of answering the telephone in the home of a friend that I would think of opening her mail. Will you please express your opinion? — RING A DING.

Dear Ring: The natural reaction to a ringing phone is to answer it. If you have strong feelings that no one but you should answer the phone in your home why didn't you instruct your guest to let it ring?

Your sister-in-law was not prying. A ringing phone is not like a letter addressed to someone else. She meant to do you a favor. And you are clearly out of order, Madame.

Neighborhood 'Nut'

Dear Ann: I've read your column for many years and am surprised this problem never has shown up in print. I can only assume that our neighborhood has the only nut of this kind.

A certain young mother who lives a few doors away has three children under 6 years of age. She has allowed her children to run loose in the neighborhood with pink eye, measles, mumps and skin rashes of undetermined origin. Just last week my son caught whooping cough from the neighbor child.

Don't tell me to speak to her. I have. She says I'm a fuss-pot and that she believes in letting her children "wear out their little illnesses." In the meantime, I hate to order my kids to stay away from her kids. Please tell me what to do. — FURIOUS MOTHER.

Dear Furious: Check with your doctor and make certain your own children are inoculated against all infectious diseases.

It's against the law to allow children with communicable illness to run loose. The next time the neighbor woman breaks the law tell her to keep her child isolated or you will ask your doctor to report her. If she doesn't keep her child inside after that—go ahead and do it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

What About The Opponents? . . .

While the Potters were winning big, what were their opponents doing last week?

Tonight's foe — Midland — was running up about the same total as East Liverpool in defeating McKeesport Catholic, 43-13.

Next week's opponent — Steubenville Central — dropped a 34-6 decision to Cincinnati Purcell and the report from Central camp is "the Crusaders are young, light and inexperienced." Central's only touchdown against Cincinnati came on a 78-yard pass from quarterback John Pergi to halfback Fred Bell.

Maybe the Potters can check off a victory with Steubenville Central which has always been a tough opponent for the Blue and White.

The Sept. 27 foe — New Philadelphia, went down to a 28-8 defeat before a strong Wooster eleven and Wellsville was beaten 31-6 by Beaver.

Youngstown Rayen, which appears here Oct. 11, doesn't open until Saturday and Martins Ferry, the Potters' foe Oct. 18, looked good in rolling over Canton McKinley, 20-8.

Weirton, the next team on the schedule, handed Charleston a 21-6 setback last Saturday and a grimmer named Ted Tomasovich of Weir High kicked three extra points by the old fashioned dropkick method. We thought dropkicking was a lost art.

Continuing down the list, Salem won its opener but was given a scare before downing Cleveland Lincoln, 18-14.

The Alliance Aviators, after a slow start last week, finally got rolling to pin a 36-7 victory on a strong Lima Senior team. Alliance is the last for the Potters this season and should be ranked high in the state by the time East Liverpool gets around to meeting the Aviator eleven.

Friday The 13th . . .

THIS FRIDAY the 13th and may prove very unlucky for some area football teams.

We missed two out of ten games last week, but the margin of victory predicted for the correct selections wasn't accurate in most cases.

Taking another stab tonight we feel the 13th will be unlucky for Midland which visits Patterson Field tonight. We don't want to go overboard on the Potters this early in the season but they did flash some new offense last Saturday night. East Liverpool by a 26-6 margin over Midland.

Lisbon looks like a 30-12 winner over Wellsville while we will go on the fence and pick a 12-12 tie for Oak Glen in its battle at Wellsburg.

Columbiana's speed merchants should roll over Youngstown North something in the vicinity of 28-6, and West Branch is a 22-12 choice over East Palestine. We like Ravenna to top Salem, 12-6.

Saturday, Leetonia gets the edge on Beaver Local, 20-6, and Stanton Local is a 30-12 pick at Mt. Pleasant. United should whip Crestview, 22-8, and Southern Local is favored here in a slight upset, 14-12.

POTTER FANS may have noticed last week Key Club members selling cardboard stadium seats with East Liverpool Potters stamped on them. The Key Clubbers will be hustling the seats again tonight for 25 cents and the proceeds will go towards defraying cost of the concession stand which gives that end of Patterson Field somewhat of a new look.

60 Report For Cross-Country . . .

WHILE football has most of the spotlight at this moment, East Liverpool's cross-country team has been working out.

Coach Frank Chan reported some 60 boys made up of 12 seniors, 23 juniors and 25 sophomores seeking spots on the team. Out of this group are six lettermen and Chan said he has a fine group of sophomores.

The Potter runners open their season Tuesday at Champion in a five-team meet.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

REMEMBER Rick Sygar, from Niles, the player-of-the-year in Ohio football two seasons ago? Rick was being counted on heavily at the University of Michigan and even though he was a sophomore, had won the starting left halfback spot.

However, Rick won't be playing any football this season. He broke his leg in two places and will have to watch the Wolverines from the sidelines.

GEORGE WILKINSON, a former standout end for Beaver Local High School is one of nine players from Ohio on the Augustana College football squad.

Augustana, located at Rock Island, Ill., opens its season at Olivet (Mich.) College on Sept. 21.

SKIP HALL, who was one of East Liverpool's top linemen three seasons ago is beginning his junior year at the University of Colorado and is in the thick of a battle for a starting position.

Pony League Trophies Given For Kiwanis Club Program

Pony League trophies to 14 Bartram, league vice president, members of the East Liverpool All-Star team which won the regional Pony League championship were presented at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Dean Densmore, manager of the team, which reached the semi-finals at Washington, Pa., and Donald Hancock, president of the city league, spoke.

James Locke, program chairman, and Kiwanis Club league committee head, introduced Hancock, who discussed the coaches and managers and their work and commended the sportsmanship of the boys.

He lauded the conduct of the all-star team during its out-of-town journeys, and said the team was commended by adults in other communities.

Densmore described his 11 years in the league and told of the individual boys on the team. He presented the trophies to the youths.

Also present were Robert series

BASEBALL HEROES

BATTING — John Roseboro, Dodgers, drove in all runs with first inning grand slam homer and third inning single, in 5-3 victory over Pittsburgh that maintained Los Angeles' three-game National League lead over St. Louis.

PITCHING — Juan Marichal, Giants, allowed only four hits and struck out 13, also hit homer, in 6-0 triumph over New York Mets.

Minor Playoffs

International League Final Indianapolis 7, Atlanta 3, Indianapolis leads 3-1 best-of-seven series.

Pacific Coast League Final Spokane 6, Oklahoma City 1, Spokane leads 2-1 best-of-seven series.

Potters Shoot For 2nd Straight Against Invading Midland Team

The East Liverpool Potters will test its "new look" offense on neighboring Midland tonight at Patterson Field when a another packed house of some 5,000 is expected to look in on the contest. Kickoff time is 7:45.

East Liverpool goes after its second straight victory over Coach Charlie Police's team in a series which was revived last year with the Potters scoring a 20-0 win over the Leopards.

THE SERIES was renewed last season for the first time since 1945 with East Liverpool having things pretty much its own way.

The two squads that met at Midland last year are predominately the same for the 1963 meeting with a veteran cast performing on both sides.

Potter coach Bob Hedmond and Police both expect a closer contest this season and both agree that the team that makes the least mistakes will win it.

POLICE pointed out that "East Liverpool is a strong team with a good offense and strong defense. In Mercer they have good speed and a breakaway runner. Bowyer is a hard running back and Forzano is a good all-around boy."

The Midland coach watched East Liverpool open up with a lopsided 31-0 victory over Beaver Local last week and drew his impressions from that opening game.

Neither one of tonight's opponents had much trouble in their inaugurations as Midland waxed Serra Catholic of McKeesport by a 43-13 margin.

HEDMOND watched the drubbing and reported that "Midland has a good ball club, with good backs and linemen. We are expecting a great deal of trouble."

East Liverpool's No. 1 problem tonight will be to stop the running of halfback Mike Krivoshia. He opened the season with four touchdown jaunts against the McKeesport eleven.

The big halfback weighs 200 pounds and once he gets rolling he's hard to bring down. Krivoshia is rated by many as one of the better backs in the district.

MIDLAND'S starting lineup will be the same as used last week. George Stoffel, 165 and Ed Cilli 170 will be at the end spots with Gary Shannon 185 and Chuck Franzetta 175 at tackles; Jessie Torres 185 and Bob Gruber 160 at guards and Bob Sopko 180 at center.

Running with Krivoshia in the backfield will be Ron Dominici 155 at quarterback, Ted Vaughn 205 at fullback and Sam Zigerelli 180 at the other halfback spot. Zigerelli a regular last season, was injured and didn't see much action when the Potters defeated Midland last season.

NO CHANGES are planned in the Potters starting lineup. Hedmond will be counting on his array of five backs including Earl Olmstead, John DiPasquale, Mercer, Bowyer and Forzano.

The Potters blended a devastating ground game with some fine passing to roll up over 400 yards against Beaver Local. East Liverpool's defensive forces also sparkled as they didn't give up a first down and didn't allow the Beavers over the 50-yard line.

Opening on the forward wall will be Randy Stover and Bill Hall at ends with either Bud Manley or Mike Snowden at one tackle and Dave Oliver, voted line-man of the week, at the other tackle spot. The guards will be Ron Echols and Bruce Burbick with Jim Hughes at center.

THIS NEW FOOTBALL FIELD at Southern Local High School will be dedicated when ceremonies are held Saturday at 7:30 p.m. followed by the Southern Local-Springfield Local football game. The turf on the new field is the finest to be found in the area and a new concession stand along with modern lighting are features of the new plant. The gridiron along with the concession stand and new brick entrance were made possible through the combined efforts of people in the area who donated their materials, equipment and time to the project.

Southern Local Sports Hefty Team, Shooting For Second Win Saturday

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

A big Southern Local team, headed by six returning lettermen and a host of good prospects, paints a pretty picture for Coach Lewis Higgenbotham as he starts his second season at the Salineville area school.

Southern Local already has one victory under its belt, a 12-8 win over Greenford last Saturday.

The new football field will be dedicated Saturday night when Southern Local meets its second opponents—Springfield Local—and will be seeking revenge for a loss last season.

HIGGENBOTHAM'S squad, after a bumpy start, came on strong in the latter part of the 1962 season to win its last three games and will be taking a four-game winning streak into Saturday night's encounter.

Ken Dunlap, a 168 pound senior, will be running the team from quarterback. Dunlap along with fullback John Wilson (185) and junior halfback Delan Jenkins (150) lettered last season. The other backfield prospects are Ed Arsufuli, a 187 pound junior and Jim Clapsadie, a senior who tips the scales at 185.

THE THREE letter winners on the forward wall are Duane Marhefka a 145-pound senior end, John Brown, huge 202 pound senior and Bill Hays, a senior going 175, who will handle the center spot.

Higgenbotham expects 14 boys to see most of the action this season and the other prospects are ends Dave Rhodes 161 pound junior, Walter Biro, 182 pound senior and Bill Forbes, 157 pound junior.

JAMES NEEDS, a junior, is the biggest member of the squad, hitting the scales at 226. He will be at one of the tackle spots while Keith Bouscher, 185 pound senior, and Charles Guthrie, 177 pound senior will hold down the guard posts.

Southern Local lost 11 players through graduation headed by Jim Carter, an all-county selection. Higgenbotham is currently working with a squad of 36 boys.

THE SOUTHERN Local coach is a St. Clairsville High School product who was an all-Eastern and All-Ohio selection in high school. He played varsity football at Eastern Kentucky State and was named to the All-Army team while performing at Fort Knox, Ky. Higgenbotham served as an assistant coach for three years before being head mentor at Southern Local.

TOM RODFONG, former East Liverpool High and Muskingum College quarterback and Al Girone, a Salineville High product, are assisting Higgenbotham. Girone is also head basketball coach.

The 1963 schedule follows: Sept. 14—Springfield, home Sept. 21—Midvale, away Sept. 28—Wayne, home Oct. 4—Stanton Local, away Oct. 12—Crestview, home Oct. 19—Conotton Valley, away Oct. 26—United, away Nov. 9—Jackson-Milton, away

Pirates No Help To Cards In 5-3 Loss To Dodgers

Roseboro's Grand Slam Difference

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
John Roseboro hit a grand slam homer and a run scoring single to produce all the runs in a 5-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday night that maintained the Los Angeles Dodgers' three-game grip on the National League lead.

The second-place St. Louis Cardinals won their sixth consecutive game and 15th in the last 16 by blending the pitching of Ernie Broglio and the slugging of Bill White and Stan Musial for an 8-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

In the only other NL games Thursday, San Francisco's Juan Marichal four-hit the New York Mets 6-0, and Philadelphia defeated Houston 4-1.

Roseboro, 30, a left-handed swinging catcher, is hitting only .245 with nine homers and 48 runs batted in. But he supplied the power early against the Pirates, getting his grand slam off Bob Friend, 16-15, in the first inning.

The Pirates could manage only four hits off Johnny Podres, 13-10, through seven innings. When they started to connect in the eighth, Ron Perranoski preserved the victory in his 61st relief appearance.

Broglio brought his record to 16-8 with an eight-hitter, but missed an opportunity to provide the Cardinals with its fourth straight shutout. Doubles by Ellis Burton and Ken Hubbs in the seventh inning snapped a string of 26 scoreless innings by St. Louis pitchers, then John Bozella and Jim Schaffer homered in the ninth for the Cubs.

Marichal, who hit his first major league homer, also got home run support from Felipe Alou and Ed Bailey. Marichal brought his record to 22-8 with the victory and struck out 13 Mets.

Ray Culp, 13-11, set the Colts down on five hits while Roy Sievers and Tony Taylor hit homers for the Phillies.

Xavier U. Guard Lost

For Opening Contest

CINCINNATI (AP) — Xavier has lost starting guard Frank St. Charles for at least Saturday's opening football game against the Quantico Marines.

Team officials said Thursday night that a knee injury will keep St. Charles out of uniform. A senior from Cincinnati, he has been a regular starting lineman for two years.

Crosetti Ready For 22nd Pennant Win With Yanks

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Frankie Crosetti, the New York Yankee third base coach, has been wearing Yankee pin stripes since 1932, either as a player or coach.

If the Yanks clinch tonight, and they could, it will be his 22nd pennant winner, including seven as a player and 15 as a coach.

The Yankees took another long stride toward the 1963 pennant—their fourth in a row, 13 in 15 years and 28th over-all—with a 5-2 victory over Kansas City Thursday.

Minnesota edged Cleveland 3-2 in 10 innings and Los Angeles blanked Boston 2-0 in the only other American League games scheduled.

The Yankee victory, which came behind Stan Williams, reduced their magic number to two. They'll try to nail it down in Minnesota tonight in the first of a four-game series.

Crosetti, a player-coach in 1947 and 1948, waved home Yogi Berra, another player-coach with the Yanks' first run in the second inning. Berra scoring on a single by Hector Lopez.

John Blanchard hit a two-run homer in the fourth and Berra and Tony Kubek singled in the other New York runs in the fifth and sixth.

Williams, who has won eight, allowed eight hits and walked six, but the A's left 13 men on base. Norm Siebern drove in both Kansas City runs with a single in the fifth.

Minnesota managed to retain mathematical life when Bob Allison hit a bases-loaded sacrifice fly with none out in the bottom of the tenth, breaking a 2-2 tie with Cleveland.

Earlier, Jimmy Hall hit his 32nd homer for the Twins, breaking Ted Williams' American League record for a rookie. The Indians tied it in the ninth on back-to-back homers by Max Alvis and Fred Whitfield.

At Los Angeles, a gathering of only 1,530, the smallest in Angel history, was on hand to watch Don Lee's four-hit shutout of the Red Sox. A double by Albie Pearson was the key hit in the Angels' two-run seventh inning.

CRYLINE LUCREE, 13-inch female beagle, is proudly shown by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnston of 229 Virginia Ave., Chester, after completing her field trial championship Sunday at the Gans (Pa.) Beagle Club. Cryline Lucree is one of very few 13-inch bitches in the area to complete her championship and was acclaimed by several judges as the outstanding 13-inch bitch they had ever judged. Her two other qualifying firsts were at the Allegheny Beagle Club at Pinto, Md., and Kiski Township Beagle Club at Avonmore, Pa. Also shown are ribbons and trophies won by the Chester champion. Her kennel name is Mi-John.

Florida Faces Georgia Tech In Televised Game

ATLANTA (AP) — Florida and Georgia Tech meet Saturday in the opening game of the 1963 major college football season.

The nationally televised (CBS-TV) contest between the Southeastern Conference powers is the first major college game of the year, with only a handful of other games scheduled around the country. The college schedule won't get into full swing until next weekend.

The Yellow Jackets, rated a six-point favorite, have won 21 games to Florida's six in the history of the series. Five ended in ties. Tech finished fourth in the SEC last year with a 5-2 record and Florida came right behind with a 4-2 slate. Both teams are considered contenders for the conference title this season.

South Side Drops 26-0 Decision

AVALON—Scoring twice through the air and twice on the ground Avalon handed South Side a 26-0 setback here Thursday night in a game played during a steady downpour.

Two long runs, one for 61 and the other for 37 netted two touchdowns for the winners while a pair of pass plays covering 27 and 25 yards added two other six points.

It was the second victory for Avalon while the contest was the opener for South Side.

Coach Dave Nichol's Rams never threatened to score during the contest.

Packers, Giants Facing Strong Foes In Openers

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

The Green Bay Packers and New York Giants, pre-season favorites in the National Football League, face a rugged test in opening day games. The Packers, minus suspended Paul Hornung, are at home to the Chicago Bears.

The Giants, who play six of their first eight games on the road, open at Baltimore against the "New Deal" Colts.

Two Saturday night games and five Sunday afternoon contests make up the opening weekend slate in the NFL.

The American Football League which opened last weekend has only three games on its schedule. The New York Jets and Kansas City Chiefs are idle. Boston is at San Diego and Denver at Houston Saturday night. In the lone Sunday game in the AFL Buffalo is at Oakland.

Here are the opening picks for the 1963 pro season:

National Football League

Detroit 17, Los Angeles 7 (Saturday night at Los Angeles)

Basic Math Needed For New Methods

It seems that some children find the newer ways of working with numbers challenging to them. Some other children seem to find them hard and confusing. Parents who try to help these children may have trouble themselves and, before they try to help the child, they will seek assistance from the teacher or another source. Suppose your child of the third, fourth or fifth grade is all worried and confused over the newer approaches to working with numbers. Also, suppose he needs to add, subtract and the like with more dexterity and you wish to help him. You might, with the help of books or the child's teacher, master the newer ways of self and grow able to make these clearer and more meaningful to him.

AS A RULE, however, you can help this child best by guiding him in rote memorizing of the basic number facts, especially in addition and subtraction. His learning these few basic number facts by heart will be useful to him all his life and need not interfere at all with his getting richer meanings of numbers and their relations by other methods.

Just use your common sense. There are only 100 basic addition combinations and only 100 guided, the youngster of eight or ten can easily master these so well that they may remain with him all his life.

If every time he needs to think of the sum of 8 and 7 or the difference between 9 and 13, he must pause to figure out the sum or difference, he will be slowed up in his work.

No matter by what method children learn to use the simple basic numbers, why not have them make the simple basic combinations a part of their mechanical memory so they can be free and have time for thinking and reasoning when they need to add, subtract, multiply or divide for solving verbal problems?

IF YOUR CHILD, in the third or fourth or higher grades, is slow and uncertain as he adds or subtracts simple numbers, find out first if he is still counting as he does so. So long as he is, he will continue to have trouble.

In your quietest, most persuasive way, show him why and how he can learn these simple number combinations by heart. Any parent can help him by having him repeat the whole number combination over and over often enough to learn it correctly.

A warning: usually the child will try himself on any combination too soon and thus repeat it incorrectly, so have him say the formula over and over again while looking at it.

The secret of success is never to repeat a combination wrong. Not speed but accuracy should be first.

My bulletins, "Home Helps in Arithmetic, Reading, Spelling and Handwriting," may be secured by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Are You 'Free' To Gain Needed Weight?

Thin girls, if nothing you eat makes a whit of difference in your weight, try to find the cause back of your persistent leanness.

To make sure you are free to gain on the health score, have a check over by a good medical man. Weight gaining is a grim struggle if you are anemic. The Ida Jean Kain doctor can help you. Correcting the anemia can make all the difference in the way you face each day. Why not have a rosy future? A low grade infection can prevent a needed gain. Talk with the doctor about your health habits and your food habits. Some minor changes could put you on the right course.

HOW IS your appetite? So many of you thin girls do not have a really demanding appetite. Not being interested in food, you forget to eat and may not miss food until suddenly you feel depleted and all-gone. Then if you try to eat you fill up quickly.

It takes high quality nutrition plus extra calories for gaining. If you are seriously underweight you are eating too little food and probably eating the wrong kind of food.

Nutrition has been defined as the process of assimilating food. Certain nutrients aid in the assimilation of food. Get on friendly terms with the word nutrients, and make sure to get your share of "full" calories by having daily the foods which guarantee an abundance of life - vitamins, protein, minerals and giving.

WITH THE BASIC Four Food Group, it is easy to plan wholesome meals. Build your meals around these protective foods: Milk group, 2 or more cups, including cheese and ice cream; Meat group, 2 or more servings, including poultry, fish and eggs; Vegetable and Fruit group, 4 or more servings, including one citrus fruit and one dark green or deep yellow vegetable; Bread and Cereal group, 4 or more servings.

The good food values supplied in these foods work together, in what is known as nutrition teamwork. In the above basic pattern use salad oil, and margarine or butter. Add more calories in your favorite foods.

One thin girl asked if smoking could be the reason for her failure to gain. Could be, for smoking dulls the appetite. One underweight reported her plan for gaining. She stopped the early morning cigarette, and found she enjoyed breakfast. The second rule was not to smoke a cigarette within one hour of any meal. She wrote:

"Tell your thin girls I have been able to gain a desperately needed 15 pounds...and I feel wonderful."

dow of Sen. Estes Kefauver, and Mrs. Kay Blackburn of Baltimore, former chairman of the Columbian County Women's Democratic Club.

Candidate Night will be observed Oct. 10.

Heart Council Slates

Election And Reports

Officers will be elected at a meeting of the Columbian County Heart Council Wednesday night at 7:30 in the conference room of the Farmers National Bank at Salem.

Twining Hiscox of Salem, president, said a report on the progress of a stroke rehabilitation program slated this fall will be given and the opening of a Heart Council office will be discussed.

A film on open heart surgery at a Youngstown hospital will also be screened. Anyone interested in the Council and its program is welcome, Hiscox said.

East Ohio Gas Rate Case Seen Far From Over

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—More than 3,000 pages of testimony have been recorded, and one witness has spent nearly 90 hours on the stand, but Public Utilities Commission hearings in the East Ohio Gas Co. rate case apparently are far from over.

Commission Chairman Carl R. Johnson and Commissioners J. Warren Bettis and Kenneth B. Johnston called a recess Thursday until next Tuesday, which will be the 22nd day of hearings since July.

The case itself dates back to 1959, when the big natural gas utility company began negotiations with communities in Northeast Ohio. When no agreement was reached, the company came to the Utilities Commission in mid-1961.

East Ohio Gas seeks a $33.9 million increase for about 800,000 residential and commercial customers in 13 Northeast Ohio counties, and a $1.1 million hike from some 800 industrial customers. The request involves all but customers in Lake and Ashtabula counties, and about 108 communities are protesting.

Sen. Engle Has Tumor On Brain, Papers Report

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two California newspapers said today that Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., is suffering from a brain tumor that has left him partially paralyzed and unable to talk.

The Los Angeles Times said that doctors "are fighting to save his life" and that the senator may never be able to speak or move normally. The paper said the tumor, discovered during brain surgery three weeks ago, is unoperable.

He is described as paralyzed in the right leg and arm while the left side is normal.

The San Francisco Chronicle quoted authoritative sources as saying that the condition of the 51-year-old senator is regarded as grave. The Times says a source very close to Engle believes he will not be able to seek a second term.

Boycot Delegations

To Attend Revivals

Delegations from the Homebuilders Class, Welcome Class, Methodist Men and children's groups will attend the revival services at the Boyce Methodist Church tonight at 7:30.

About 15 youths of the church attended Thursday night's service which was followed by a fellowship. Services will not be held Saturday night.

The revival will conclude Sunday with Communion for the youths at 9 a.m. and a Family Night at 7:30. Dr. Gilbert Williams of Haddonfield, N. J., is the evangelist and Joseph Crouse of Wilmore, N. J. music leader, and he will address the MYF at 6:15 p.m. The Rev. Ronald Reare is pastor.

Rezoning Is Approved For Shopping Center

CLEVELAND (AP) — Council in nearby Willoughby Hills has approved the rezoning of an 80-acre tract to allow development of a proposed $25 million shopping center.

The action Thursday night makes the tract at Chardon and Bishop roads commercial instead of residential property. Construction of the shopping center is scheduled to begin next month.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

IN MEMORIAM

IN memory of "MARKIE" LITTLE 1956-1958. Just 5 years have passed since that day when the little boy we loved was called away. To have to hold, and then to part is the greatest sorrow of ones heart. Though your baby smile is forever and your little hand we can no longer touch we still have such sweet memories of the little MARTHA LITTLE.

CHRIS C. LANE. In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who passed away one year ago today. The moon and stars are shining upon a lonely grave. Where sleeps our husband and father. We loved but could not save. We often sit and think of you, And speak of how you died. To think you could not say goodbye. Before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best. May God grant you eternal rest. From his loving Wife and Family.

CARDS OF THANKS

I will always remember the many acts of kindness in the death of my husband, Bill. I wish to express my sincere thanks to the Wells High Class of '57' and every relative and friend for floral offerings and help. I am in any way. A special thanks to Evangelist Vaughn for his consoling words and the Arner Funeral Home.

Farm Bureau
Airs Reports

LISBON — Reports of the Regional Cabinet meeting were given on the Columbiana County Farm Bureau Federation directors met Thursday evening at the Farm Bureau offices with Dawson Irey of Lisbon R. D. 4, president, presiding.

Three newly-appointed members, Mrs. John Huston of Wellsville R. D. 1, Mrs. Clyde Farmer of Salem R. D. 3 and Roland Stryffe of Belmont R. D. 2, were among the 16 attending.

Reports of the cabinet meeting were presented by Herbert Frischhorn of Wellsville R. D. and Marion Sanor of East Rochester, along with Mrs. Evelyn Hoopes of Belmont R. D., organization representative.

Several items of legislation was discussed, including State Issue No. 1 on the ballot Nov. 5.

John Hawkins of New Waterford R. D. 1, was appointed chairman of the Front Line Committee of the County Farm Bureau.

The membership growth committee will meet Oct. 3 at the bureau office and the policy development committee Oct. 7 to prepare resolutions for the Council's annual meeting at the Knox Local School Nov. 2. A ham dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m.

A report was made that several Farm Bureau women expect to attend the women's fall rally at Myers Lake at Canton Oct. 15. A thank-you note was received from three county youths who attended the North-East Regional Farm Bureau Youth Conference.

The board also decided to hold its annual fall frolic again next year because of the success of that last Saturday evening at the Fairgrounds.

Next meeting is Oct. 10 at the offices.

American Indian
Fighting To Stay
Separate Race

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — While the nation's attention is focused on the battle for Negro civil rights the native American Indian is waging his own independence struggle in reverse.

Unlike the Negro, who demands integration with the white man, the Indian is fighting to remain a separate and distinct race.

Where the Negro wants equality, the Indian asserts he is entitled to more than that—every advantage enjoyed by the whites, plus recognition as survivors of a once sovereign power.

War councils to obtain those aims met in Bismarck this past week, during the 20th annual convention of the National Congress of American Indians. The congress claims to represent some 400,000 of the estimated 600,000 Indians on reservations across the country.

Glenmoor Firemen
Receive Instruction

Sixteen attended a meeting of the Glenmoor fire department Thursday night at the fire station at which Fire Chief Frank Riser gave instruction on the Scott Air Packs and Kenneth Mills instructed on the resuscitator.

An amendment to the bylaws concerning officers for the department is to be given first reading at a meeting of the Firemen's Association next Thursday night at 8.

The amendment would provide for appointment of the fire chief, who would name his own officers. At present, officers are elected.

Closed Hearing Held

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Appropriations subcommittee held a closed-door hearing Thursday on a proposed $41 million federal building for Cleveland. Aides said Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio, supported the project while some property owners argued against it.

65 Attend Dinner Event

Beauty Program Held
To Open BPW Club

The fall season of the Business and Professional Women's Club was ushered in with a program on beauty at its dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Travelers Hotel. About 65 attended.

Mrs. Eileen Brown, chairman of the personal development committee in charge of the session, introduced the theme, "The Essence of You."

Mrs. Irma Larkins spoke on "Perfume Through the Ages," relating the origin and manufacture. A display of perfume was featured on a table centered with a bouquet of gladioli. Favors were miniature perfume vials.

ROLL CALL, the newly-inaugurated program feature, was answered with "my favorite beauty routine."

Mrs. Doris McKinnon, president, presided and gave opening and closing thoughts of sentiment. Reports were heard from Mrs. Lillie Belle Leonard, recording secretary; Miss Grace Woodward, corresponding secretary, and Miss Helen Auld, treasurer.

Mrs. Helen Moore, finance chairman, presented the proposed budget and recommendations. It was accepted following revisions.

The civic participation committee report was given by Mrs. Mary Ruth Behout, chairman, who spoke on arrangements for a food type project. She reported on plans for observance of "National Business Women's Week" Oct. 6-12 when a vesper service at the First Methodist Church Sunday. Members were asked to register for a choir to be featured. The group is also planning to arrange displays in vacant storefronts.

MISS ROBERTA Pennybaker, membership chairman, announced a hospitality committee will be named for each month along with different name tags to be distributed. The committee has several other tentative plans.

Members who speak a foreign language signed a paper to be sent to Mrs. Mary Ann Campbell, state world affairs chairman. Mrs. Adeline MacBurney, local chairman, reported on this project.

Mrs. May Hartt, chairman, reported on the Child Health Clinic, announcing the fund campaign had been added to the Community Fund drive. Mrs. McKinnon and Mrs. Ethel Harvey reported on a visit to the center at the City Hall. Mrs. Mary McCullough distributed dolls to be stuffed for the annual clinic Christmas party. Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh and Mrs. Brown volunteered to represent the club at Monday's session of the Board of Education.

RECOGNITION was given Mrs. Nessie Dunlop and Miss Gladys DeBolt, listed in the recent issue of "Who's Who of American Women" and Mrs. Edna Jones, who was named "Woman of the Year" by the Ruritan Club.

Mrs. McCullough, a member of the state nominating committee, asked for names of prospective candidates for election next year.

Reservations were taken for the District 8 leadership training conference Sept. 22 at Kent, when Mrs. Goldie Smith, director, will be in charge of business.

Mrs. Wambaugh, state personal development chairman, reported on further plans for the annual conference Nov. 16-17 at the Deshler - Hilton Hotel in Columbus. Members registered to participate in the program. She also spoke on state events she has and will attend, and subscriptions concerning the new publication "Realm," a magazine for women of accomplishment.

MRS. REBECCA TURK announced the open dinner meeting of the Columbiana County Affiliate of the United Cerebral Palsy Association is Sept. 24 at St. Alloysius Parochial School Hall when Dr. Robert Mercer, head of pediatrics at the Cleveland Clinic, will be speaker.
